INDEPENDENCE DAY AND THE MAKING OF A NEW INDIA

Dr. Rajiv Ranjan Giri

During the days of the freedom movement, the leaders of the country had dreamt a great future for the country. They made broad contours to create a new India. Though they had envisioned multiple paths to create a new India, all of them had a common goal. The goal of taking India to the zenith of development. Every Indian should have access to food, roof over their heads and arrangements for complete well-being. Every child must get holistic education. No farms should remain dry due to lack of irrigation. The feeling of high class- low class must cease to exist. Any form of exploitation and atrocity should not be allowed in new India. The nation builders contributed with all possible capacities in this direction.

We must remember the dream of the Father of the Nation, Mahatma Gandhi in this regard. He dreamt of an India where the poorest people feel a sense of belonging to the nation - where their voice too has a role in nation building. He said he will strive for an India which won't have any discrimination of higher and lower class and where diverse communities will exist in complete harmony. Such an India will have no place for untouchability, alcohol and other addictive scourges. Where men and women will have same rights. We will have peaceful relations with all the countries of the world, which means neither we will exploit any other country nor allow other countries to exploit us. Gandhiji outlined this dream in 1931. We attained independence 16 years later.

In next four years we will be celebrating the diamond jubilee of our freedom. The idea of a new India has again come into the limelight in this regard. 75 years is a huge time period for any society or nation. In Indian tradition too, the period of 75 years is considered as very important. Diamond jubilee is regarded as a part of the glorious sequence of silver jubilee and golden jubilee. Hence it is an opportune time to imagine a

JOURNEY SINCE INDEPENDENCE TO MAKE INDIA THE NATION OF OUR DREAMS

Shree Prakash Sharma

The independence of India, won on the 15th August 1947, spontaneously conjures up a string of unforgettable memories of sagas of sacrifices, fierce and struggles and psycho-physical afflictions inflicted upon those thousands of great martyrs of mother India who laid their lives happily on the altar of the motherland to make us free from around 350 years' slavery of the British rule. The freedom struggle of India, unlike other nations' struggle for the freedom, has been an awe-inspiring story of the mass-movement and mass-participation which stands witness, to the globally-respected and widely-recognized philosophies of truth and non-violence of the great saint, Mahatma Gandhi, outrages endured by peasants, labour, professionals and the common masses. It is also the story of the realization of the dreams of millions of the people to establish.

"Swaraj hamara janmsiddh adhikar hai" (Swaraj is our birth right) by Lokmanya Bal Gangadhar Tilak, "Give me blood and I will give you freedom" by Subhash Chandra Bose, "Do or die" by Gandhiji, the Father of Nation and many other motivating slogans and ideologies of the eminent freedom fighters and revolutionary leaders recount the war of independence of the country and go on filling our hearts with emotion. That is why the independence of India is not merely a watershed event in the political history of the country but it is also a great opportunity to remember, respect and pay homage to all those patriots and martyrs of the nation and all those brave sons and daughters of the brave mothers, who suffered the atrocities and outrages by the oppressive and inhuman policies of the British government.

Over seven decades have now passed since we became free and now we are celebrating 72nd anniversary of the freedom of the country. In fact, the time period of seven decades is not a very long period in the life of a nation but from the perspectives of evaluating the fulfilment of people's aspirations and achievements of the milestones of development, it is not too short period to overlook either.

The independence day, besides giving us the chance to recalling and showing our

ENGLISH RENDERING OF PM'S ADDRESS IN 46TH EPISODE OF MANN KI BAAT ON 29 JULY, 2018

My dear countrymen, Namaskar. Of late, News of abundant rainfall has been steadily coming in. At places, we are hearing of rising concerns on account of excessive showers; at some places, people are anxiously waiting for the rains to begin. The vastness and diversity of India is such, in fact, at times even rains play hide & seek through partiality laced likes & dislikes. But why should we blame the rains! After all it was humankind that chose the path of conflict with Nature and consequently earned her periodic wrath. And that is why it becomes our collective responsibility... Let us be lovers of nature, protectors of Nature, conservers of Nature... and thus, ensure spontaneous balance in her myriad bounty.

Come to think of it, recently an incident pertaining to a natural disaster attracted global attention, leaving every heart & mind perturbed. All of you must have watched it on T.V... in Thailand a team of 12 teenaged football players and their coach went on an excursion to a cave. Usually it takes a few hours to enter and exit that cave. But destiny had different plans that day. Barely had they entered deep into the cave that a sudden heavy downpour caused water logging at the inlet of the cave. Their exit was completely blocked. Not able to find a way out, they perched themselves a top a mound inside the cave; not for a day or two, but an entire 18 days. One can only imagine the predicament of these teenagers in the face of death, where every second was fraught with danger. On the one hand they were struggling against all odds; on the other, the world over, humanity joined hands in expressing the noblest & the most righteous of human virtues. The world over, people prayed for the safe & secure exit of these children. No stone was left unturned to trace their whereabouts, their well-being and their rescue. Their timely evacuation was of a prime concern, since the heavy rains would have delayed rescue-attempts by a few months. Anyway, the good news of their safe exit led to a sigh of relief, a sense of inner calm. But I feel like viewing the entire sequence of events from another perspective, i.e, how the operation was conducted! The sense of responsibility & commitment, prevailing at every level was astonishing. The government, their parents, family members, media, citizens of that country, each one of them displayed an awe-inspiring sense of peace and patience. All of them came together as a team to accomplish their mission. I feel the self-control exercised by each one of them in conduct is worth understanding and emulating. It is not that the parents were not aggrieved, it is not that the mothers' eyes had ceased to be moist. Their patience, their restraint, in fact the calm composure exercised by the entire society is commendable & worth following. During the operation, a sailor from Thailand Navy sacrificed his life. The whole world is bewildered at the way they held on with courage and patience, without losing hope, despite the odds against them in the water-logged dark cave. This proves that when humanity stands together, it creates wonders. What is certainly required is focusing on your goal with a calm & steady demeanour and the will to strive.

A few days ago, the country's beloved poet Neeraj Ji left us forever. Neeraj ji was blessed with a special quality... it was a combination of hope, faith, a firm resolve and self-confidence. Every word of Neeraj ji's work can instill a lot of strength & inspiration in us Indians. He wrote
अधियार ढलकर ही रहेगा
अधियाँ चाहे उठाओ
बिजलियाँ चाहे गिराओ
जल गया है दीप तो अधियार ढलकर ही रहेगा

The darkness shall be dispelled
Whether you brew up storms
Or make lightening strike
Now that the lamp has been lit

The darkness shall be dispelled
My heartfelt respectful tributes to Neeraj ji.

Usually, the months of July and August are very important for farmers and the youth. This is the time which is peak season for colleges. Like Satyam, Hundreds of thousands of youth leave schools to join colleges. Whereas February and March get consumed in exams, papers and answers, April & May are meant for enjoying vacations, followed by results and thereafter, shaping a course for one's life through career choices. July is the month when the youth step into a new phase of life, where the focus shifts from questions and veers towards cut-offs.

The attention of students steers from home to hostel. Students submit themselves to the tutelage of Professors vis a vis the shadow of their parents. I firmly believe that my young friends must be enthusiastic & happy on the commencement of their college life. Leaving home for the first time, moving out of one's village, coming out of a protective environment amounts to taking charge of the course of one's life. This multitude of young people leave their homes for the first time to chart a new direction for their lives. Some students might have joined their respective colleges and some must be about to join. All I would like to say to you is 'Be calm, enjoy life, seek inner happiness in life. There is no alternative to books, one has to study, yet one's bent of mind should be towards discovering new things. Old friends are invaluable. Childhood friends are precious, but selecting, making & maintaining new friendships is a task that requires immense prudence. Keep learning something new, such as newer skills and languages. Young people who leave their homes for the sake of studies should discover their new places, know more about the people, language, culture & tourism facets related to them. My best wishes to all the young people about to begin a new innings. Referring to the college season reminds me of someone I saw in the news recently... how Asharam Choudhury a student from an extremely poor family in Madhya Pradesh overcame life's many challenges to achieve success. In his maiden attempt, he cracked the Entrance exam for MBBS at AIIMS, Jodhpur. His father earns his daily bread by waste-picking. I congratulate him on his success. There are many such instances of students from deprived families who, through sheer determination & perseverance overcame all odds and stood out to be beacons of inspiration to others. Examples such as Prince Kumar of Delhi, whose father is a DTC bus driver, Abhay Gupta of Kolkata who studied on footpaths under street lights, Bitiya Afreen Sheikh of Ahmedabad, whose father drives an auto rickshaw, Nagpur's daughter Khushi, whose father is a school bus driver, Karthik of Haryana, whose father is a watchman or Ramesh Sahu of Jharkhand, whose father is a brick-kiln labourer or Gurgaon's divyang angel Anushka Panda, who suffers from a hereditary disorder called spinal muscular atrophy... all of them overcame each & every obstacle through their firm resolve and zeal, attaining success for the world to see. If we look around, we can see many such examples.

Any commendable incident from any part of the country infuses my heart with energy and inspires me. And when I mention the glorious journey of these youth, I am reminded of Neeraj ji's line which sum up the raison d'etre of life. Neeraj ji has said
गीत आकाश को धरती का सुनाना है मुझे
हर अंधेरे को उजाले में बुलाना है

मुझे
फूल की गंध से तलवार को सर करना है
और गा-गा के पहाड़ों को जगाना है मुझे
How I wish to make the sky listen to the song of the earth
How I wish to inspire every strand of darkness to come to the radiance of light
And I wish to conquer the might of the sword
With the fragrance of flowers
And to awaken the mountains with the Sweetness of songs.

My dear countrymen, a few days ago I happened to glance through a news item, it said- "Two youths make Modi's dream come true". On reading further, I came to know how our youngsters put in efforts to transform the lives of the common man by making smart and creative use of technology.

It so happened that once I was interacting with Indian youth in San Jose town of America hailed as a Technology Hub. I had appealed to those young people to think over how could they use their talent to India's benefit and do something in that direction whenever they found time. I had made an appeal to change brain-drain into brain-gain. Two IT Professionals from Rae Bareilly Yogesh Sahu ji and Rajneesh Bajpayee ji accepted my challenge and made a unique attempt. With their joint efforts, Yogesh ji and Rajneesh ji have developed a SmartGaonApp by utilizing their professional skills. This App is not only connecting the villagers with the whole world but now they can obtain any information on their own mobile phones. Residents of the village Taudhampur in Rae Bareilly, village Chief, District Magistrate, CDO and every one joined in to create awareness amongst the masses. This App is actually bringing in a Digital Revolution in the village, with the help of this App, it has since become easier to record, track and monitor developmental work being done in the village. This App contains phone directory, News section, events list, health centre and information centre of the village. This App is very useful for the farmers and the grammar feature of the App and FACT rate among the farmers functions like a market place for their respect to our martyrs, must also serve as an important occasion to assess how far we have marched ahead in the direction of fulfilling the various promises made to the common masses of the country. It is also the great occasion to introspect on the efforts made and duties rendered for the upkeep of the essential features of an integrated and sovereign nation, enshrined in the preamble of the Constitution of the country.

The day is also important to take stock of an array of policies and programmes initiated by the successive governments for the masses. And, finally, the day is also worth remembering and reassessing our moral responsibilities of bequeathing the rich legacy of sustaining the security, liberty, integrity and sovereignty of the nation and the great stories of sacrifices, pains, patriotism, loyalty and trials and tribulations of our freedom fighters.

Looking back to the days when the country had just got freedom in 1947 and comparing it with the 21st century's India brings before us an incredible story of historical achievements and incredible laurels in almost all the sectors of the economy.

There is no gainaying the fact that we have not yet reached our destinations, but we must also not forget that we have come a long way from where we had started in 1947. We have as a nation succeeded in making our presence felt in almost all the domains of the economy vis-a-vis the world economy.

We have started the efforts to explore mars. This is not a mean achievement taking into consideration the situation of the country on the eve of independence when we were not capable of much manufacturing. Now we have developed and gained the technical prowess and scientific know-how even to manufacture helicopters, aeroplanes, satellites and variety of sophisticated weapons and machines indigenously in our own factories and plants with the help of our own engineers, scientists and technicians.

The famines like that of Bengal of 1770 and 1943 and death of thousands of the people from the epidemics such as plague and cholera do not occur now. We have also now become virtually free from various diseases like chicken pox, polio, diarrhoea, tuberculosis and various others which had proved to be the main reason of colossal deaths of all age groups of the people before independence.

We have now world-famous 23 Indian Institute Technologies (IITs), over 460 medical colleges providing admission to over 50,000 students every year. The country now boasts of having a perfectly sound network of supertech hospitals, with ultra-modern medical facilities and faculties, like that of All India Institutes of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), the number of which has grown currently to 7.

The number of premier Indian Institutes of Management (IIMs) has now increased to 20 which is a landmark achievement in a country like ours which lacked entrepreneurial and management skills until recently. We have currently around 260 million children who attend around 1.5 million schools across 633 districts in both the public and private sectors. Out of this over one million schools are run by both the central and state governments.

Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalayas, established in 1986 as per the New Education Policy (NEP, 1986) of the government of India, considered as the model schools for promoting the quality education, especially to the talented students of the rural areas, have been proving to be the trail-blazer of the fast spread of education in the villages of India.

Over 600 JNVs, boarding schools with 100 per cent subsidized education facilities, are now functioning across the country providing quality education to over 2 lakh students. This has proved to be the most radical milestone in the education sector of the government of India.

On the front of other demographic statistics too, the country has made a lot of historical advancements. As per the latest data of World Health Organization (WHO), the Maternal Mortality Rate (MMR) of the country has recorded substantial decline in the current years. It has come down to 174 per 100,000 live births which is a significant achievement. We have achieved more than 75 per cent decline in the Infant Mortality Rate (the number of infants dying per 1000 before their first birthday). As per the latest data of the World Bank, the IMR has decreased to 38 deaths from 165 deaths during 1960s.

The life expectancy has also recorded more than double increase since the pre-independence day. The average age of an Indian was merely 32 years before independence which has now registered a record increase and reached to 68 years. This shows the consistently increasing health status of the country.

The literacy rate of India as per the latest census of 2011 was 74.04 while in 1947 it was 20 per cent. At the time of independence, only two persons out of 10 Indians were literate whereas as per the latest data now more than 8 persons are literate out of 10 persons, that too with the computer education as a conspicuous achievement.

The national income of a country is considered as one of the key parameters of measurement of development of a nation. According to Ministry of Commerce, Government of India, the country's national income was merely Rs. 6,234 crore during the 1945-46 which has risen to the staggering figure of Rs. 134.08 lakh crore during the 2017-18.

The Indian economy grew at less than 2 per cent rate of growth during the first half of the 20th century which has now increased to 7.7 per cent per year which is even more than 7 per cent growth rate of China, the fastest growing economy of the world.

In fact, the odyssey of the development saga of independent India commences with that of setting up of the Planning Commission (currently called as NITI Aayog, the National Institution for Transforming India, rechristened and restructured by the Prime Minister Narendra Modi).

Mahatma Gandhi had once said, "I will give you a talisman. Whenever you are in doubt or when the self becomes too much with you, apply the following test: Recall the face of the poorest and the weakest man whom you may have seen and ask yourself if the step you contemplate is going to be of any use to him. Will he gain anything by it? Will it restore him to a control over his own life and destiny? In other words, will it lead to swaraj for the hungry and spiritually starving millions? Then you will find your doubts and your self melting away." The quote has a deeper meaning and it relates to the testing of the economic condition of the common masses of the country. The political freedom of a nation is essential for the dignified life of its countrymen but what about the economic freedom? What about the financial security of the people, especially that of proletariat segment of the country?

In fact, without the attainment of economic freedom, the true spirit of political freedom is completely lost. Successive governments have launched the various programmes and initiated the policies to bring about economic security to nearly more than one fourth of the below poverty line (BPL) families of the country since independence itself but the Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi who came to power in 2014 has shown great concern to bring prosperity and happiness to these segments of the country.

The government has launched the following most important and epoch-making programmes to financially strengthen the marginalized families to ultimately bring them into the national mainstream. All these programmes are set to metamorphose the economic condition of the long-deprived and destitute people and ultimately help them in realizing the dreams which our freedom fighters and policy makers had envisaged.

PRADHAN MANTRI JAN DHAN YOJANA

Started on the eve of Independence Day of 2014 by the Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi, this programme is seen as the greatest ever tool to financially include the people who did not have any accessibility to the various essential financial services such as opening of the account in the bank, depositing savings and withdrawing money as and when required. Under this programme around 30 crores of the accounts have so far been opened in the banks and nearly 66,000 crore rupees have been credited to these accounts. This is one of the historical steps in the direction of making the people financially literate and secured.

SUKANYA SAMRIDHI YOJANA

On January 22, 2015, the Prime Minister Narendra Modi launched Sukanya Samridhi Yojana under the "Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao" campaign. The programme's main objective is to meet the education and marriage expenses of a girl child in a family. Under this scheme, an account can be opened after the birth of a girl till she turns 10.

PRADHAN MANTRI JEEWAN JYOTI BIMA YOJANA

This programme had been announced by Shri Arun Jaitley, the Union Finance Minister, while presenting Budget in 2015. It is a renewable insurance scheme which offers the insurance cover of Rs 2 lakh on death. The scheme aims at providing the financial assurance to the economically backward families of the nation in case of any casualty which may befall them.

ATAL PENSION YOJANA (APY)

Named after the former Prime Minister Sri Atal Bihari Vajpayee, this scheme offers financial security to the citizens of India. It has been launched to focus on the economic security to the labour force working in the unorganized sector. Under this scheme, the labour force of the unorganized sector is covered under National Pension Scheme (NPS).

The beneficiaries under this scheme are entitled to get a guaranteed monthly pension of Rs 1000 to Rs 5000 after the age of 60 years subject to their contributions made to the scheme. APY is reckoned as a revolutionary step in the direction of providing economic security to the people who are left with no past savings and security when they are physically and mentally less capable of getting employment.

INDEPENDENT INDIA

A HOPE FOR YOUTH

Laxmi Dass

After a long and intensive struggle India got Independence. Though Gandhiji did not want this country to split. but because of the divide and rule policy of the British Government and influence of some of the vested interests the country was divided. India became free and Indians became masters of their destiny.

At that point of time one of our agendas was how to govern the nation. Our leaders decided to adopt democratic form of governance. It was a difficult and risky decision. Our people, by and large, were illiterate. Giving same voting right to everybody big or small, rich or poor, any caste, any gender, any religion was a risky experiment. India opted for that experiment and today we can claim with pride that we are the largest democracy of the world. It is this form of Government which has empowered our youth to take decisions and move forward. There may be some hiccups, but our democracy is undoubtedly successful and empowers every section of the society.

Economic empowerment is the need of the day. We must have a situation where we are able to earn our livelihood. The gap between the poor and the rich should be bridged as was visualised in earlier days of our democracy. Our policies should be as such that everyone gets opportunities to become economically self reliant. When we talk of livelihood it is very clear that every hand should have work. We should make sure and implement the same without loosing time. We must plan our policies accordingly. I am sure that piece meal solutions will not work rather they will further complicate the situation. We have to go back to the basics.

We have to plan an education system suitable to our requirements. We should have international standards in our education system. We must be best to compete at international level but at the same time we should not forget our needs, we should not forget that we are a big nation with every sixth person being an Indian. Our education policy should, keep that large youth population in mind. We may try the policy of "learning by earning and earning by learning". We can try Gandhian education system.

Entrepreneurship or skill development or decen-tralised production is one area which requires attention. Efforts have been made and are being made to develop entrepreneurship. Its utility has been realised by everyone. We often plead for level playing field for competitiveness. But while saying so we forget that the weak cannot fight the strong unless they are made healthy. I am not pleading for any type of concessions, rebates, grants or reservations. But I am of the view that we should frame our economic policies in such a manner that the entrepreneurs should have the condition to grow and branch out. We have to make entrepreneurship more attractive, more powerful so that young aspirants may opt for entrepreneurship.

Technology is one area which requires careful handling. It is necessary. But at the same time we should not forget that advancement of technology has rendered a good number of youth jobless, with the use of technology the chances of employment avenues are diminishing very fast. Take the example of Banks. Banks require very little manpower. We should keep one thing in mind, when the work is big and hands are little then the work of hands has to be done by machine and if work is little and hands are more then the machine's work has to be done by hands. Therefore while using the machines, using the technology we have to be very careful. We have to be very sure that while providing job to one hand the other hand should not become jobless. To remove poverty, to solve unemployment problem every hand has to be provided work. It is not possible for any Government, for any system to give required unemployment allowance to all unemployed youths. Giving food is no solution.

There is a saying " If you give someone a fish you give food for the day, but if you teach him how to fish you give food for his whole life ". Anyhow we have to plan to enable the youth to earn their livelihood.

For earning livelihood one of the ways is Gandhian economic policy. It is a viable attainment. I am of the firm view that Gandhian constructive programs should be given a chance, should be given a fair deal to deal with the present complex situation of the country. Gandhiji did, not only give ideas, but also practised these constructive programs to make sure that these ideas are implementable and we can revitalise this nation with these programs and can achieve Gramswaraj.

We talk about growth. It is important. But more important is sustainable economic growth. Mere economic growth may give a wrong picture. Because growth of a few may contribute to overall growth of the nation. But growth of a few doesn't solve our problems. Balanced economic growth can address our unemployment problems, our rural development issues, our poverty related issues. Balanced economic growth is possible only if we adopt Gandhiji's decentralised economic policy. Means of production should be placed judiciously. Concentration of means of production in a few hands may give rise to a few. This may result into rise of unemployment. We have to frame our policies in such a fashion that these should result into balanced economic growth.

National integration is another area which has to be taken care of. India is a country with so many diversities. Different languages, different castes, different religions, different regions, different food habits, different styles of living, different cultures, even then we are one. We are one great nation. We must have the understanding to live with each other. We should respect each other's habits, feelings, emotions. Emotional integration is our need. We should always be careful while dealing with others. On the auspicious occasion of this Independence Day we should take a pledge that we neither utter any word which questions the integrity of others nor do any act which harms the process of national integration. Let us pledge to protect the identity of every citizen.

The youth should not depend upon outside sources. They are the force. They are the strength of the nation. They have the capacity. They can do wonders. They can scale the length and breadth of the nation. Age is on their side. Accept the challenge. Don't expect anything from others. Rather create a situation to help others. All big personalities had to pass through more difficult situations than we are facing today. You have experience of these great people with you. You have their inspiration with you. Sacrifice done by our forefather to achieve freedom is reminding you, guiding you to move forward. Don't stop till you achieve your goal. Be a light house for other fellow young passengers in the making of this great nation. The motherland demands your commitment. Get ready to solve your problems and help others to solve their problems. You can plan. You can move. See big. Try to achieve big. The great nation i.e. our motherland is calling you.

P(03-1) Development of a device for stable gradient generation using a microfluidics platform

About the project: Microfluidic assay have been successfully applied to study the chemotaxis of neutrophils, bacterial cells as well as stem cell migration & proliferation. Diffusion and mixing between parallel streams due to fluid flow is important for gradient generation of chemoattractant in microfluidic devices. According to the study, it has been estimated that the SBM will help in preventing more than 300,000 deaths due to diarrhoea and protein-energy malnutrition between 2014 and October 2019. Dr Richard P Johnston, the technical officer for water, sanitation and hygiene at WHO, presented key findings and discussed the methodology used for the study. Unsafe sanitation caused nearly 199 million cases of diarrhoea annually before SBM(G) was initiated. These cases have gradually reduced and are expected to be nearly eliminated when the universal use of safe sanitation facilities is achieved by October 2019. Secretary, Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Ms. Preeti Sudan addressed the audience during the dissemination workshop. She appreciated the efforts of Swachh Bharat Mission for changing the mindse of the masses and working for a greater cause of sanitation. As per the study done by WHO, more than nearly 14 million DALYs (Disability-Adjusted Life Years) will be prevented due to diarrhoea and protein-energy malnutrition between 2014 and October 2019. Talking about the initiative of SBM, Secretary of Ministry of Drinking Water and Sanitation, Shri Parameswaran Iyer acknowledged the efforts of the SBM team in making Swachhata everybody's business and discussed the key highlights of the study done by the WHO. The dissemination workshop concluded with a strong focus and promise to sustain the efforts of SBM, and ensuring a healthier future for our nation.

JOURNEY SINCE

life styles which have caught the fancy of people across the country. The easy accessibility and cheap affordability of the common masses to the internet services has changed the country into an electronically empowered economy. The main purpose of the scheme is to connect all government departments with the help of internet. Making government services available to the people electronically is a revolutionary step in the direction of using knowledge for creating income, employment and the future. No doubt, this initiative of the government is poised to make India a knowledge superpower in the 21st century.

PRADHAN MANTRI SURAKSHA BIMA YOJANA (PMSBY)

This is an insurance scheme for providing social security which covers accidental death and disability on nominal premium. This scheme is available to all the people between the age group of 18 to 70 years. As an initiative to offer financial inclusion of the citizens of India, the scheme is one step ahead in the direction of fulfilment of Narendra Modi's Mission of "Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas".

SAANSAD ADARSH GRAM YOJANA

This is one of the very ambitious programmes launched by Prime Minister Narendra Modi for the holistic development of villages, the integral part of the development of the Indian economy. The programme was launched on the occasion of birth anniversary of Lok Nayak Jai Prakash Narayan on October 11, 2014. Under this scheme, a Member of Parliament chooses and adopts one Gram Panchayat from his or her constituency of Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha to develop it as a model village which will have all the infrastructural facilities, education, sanitation, communication, health care and other civic amenities. Implemented by the Ministry of Rural Development, Saansad Adarsh Gram Yojana aims at strengthening the villages and various administrative units of Gram Panchayat.

MAKE IN INDIA

'Make in India', one of the most radical programmes aims at configuring the roadmap of development of India in the wake of fast sweeping impact of globalization across the nations in the world. The programme was announced by the Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi from the ramparts of the Red Fort on the 15 August 2014. The call to manufacturers, especially the foreign ones, to produce goods in India is likely to boost the industrial development of the country. Run by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry and Department of Industrial Policy & Promotion, the scheme is set to promote innovation and investment facilitation in the country. It also aims at making India an important manufacturing hub for the producers and ultimately generating employment opportunities. "Make in India" is going to provide new identity to the fast emerging industries and economy of India in the years to come. Development of a nation is a dynamic concept. It goes on eternally and that is why it is said that if a nation's development ever is complete and the aspirations of her people are ever fully realized then it ceases to be a nation. The story of India is no way different. Our advancements in almost all the sectors has been substantial since we became an independent nation and our Constitution came into force. Challenges and problems still exist but there no doubt that we are on the fast move to overcome them one by one keeping the resource crunch in mind. The famous English historian and author Edward Gibbon had once said, "In the end, they wanted security more than they wanted freedom." Security here refers to the economic security and as a nation we must not ever forget that the ultimate goal of the liberty of a nation is to achieve the economic liberty because a hungry man is not a free man. No doubt, we have covered miles of our journey in this direction to keep our promises and miles are underway to fulfil the rest of them.

new India. The circumstances are way better this time. India has more than 130 crore people as of now. 62% of this population is below 59 years. Maximum number of youth is also in India. In the light of all this, we can also consider India as the country with the maximum potential. Young age is the most capable time of life and hence the country with the maximum number of youth has maximum potential. We have maximum number of hands for work and maximum number of minds to think. No other country can match India in terms of human resources.

India has ample amount of natural resources, which will be helpful in realising the idea of a new India. 19,94,555 square kilometres land is cultivable. This is 56.76% of the total land in India. India is also wealthy in terms of mountains, rivers, forests and common land. It also has the distinction of the being world's fourth largest country in terms of coal resources. Keeping all this in mind, it can be considered as a land of opportunities, which has ample resources for everyone. What Gandhiji said about nature stands true for India as well. He said that nature has ample resources to fulfill everyone's need but not for anyone's greed. In other words nature can fulfill everyone's real needs but can not be sufficient for anyone's greed.

The deadline to realise the idea of new India has been set to be at the time of diamond jubilee. By that time housing for the poor, doubled income for the farmers and security to the women have been promised. Strategies to eliminate casteism, corruption and terrorism have been formulated. New India will be completely clean. Black money will be brought back. Economy will be digitalised. Make in India and Clean India are two important aspects of this new India. Everyone will have freedom to work. Such an atmosphere will be created where young entrepreneurs will be able to utilise their talents for the development of the country. The fulcrum of this new India will be the freedom of the people to fully develop their skills. It will create such great India where none of the previous problems would exist. All the households of new India will have LPG, electricity, internet connection and air conditioners. All the houses will have toilets too. The citizens of new India will be highly educated. The whole country will have a network of ultra modern and huge infrastructure. Every-one will have automobiles. These automobiles and material resources will be manufactured keeping environmental concerns in mind. The chasm between urban and rural areas will be filled. In both the areas, air and water will be clean and healthy. Rural areas will also have all the facilities. Cities will be peaceful. In this manner, new India will be an influential nation in the world. Free of poverty, unemployment and corruption, new India will be one of the world's rapidly developing economies.

The concept of new India is beautiful and in accordance with the values of freedom. But it is not that easy. It has many hurdles to cross. It is true that India remained largely unaffected from global recession of 2007-08. Its economy is also rapidly developing. But has this development been successful in removing the inequalities of society? The answer to this question is unsatisfactory. This situation is a big challenge for new India.

New India has another big challenge in its way. Half of our population is employed in agriculture. It is disguised unemployment. Due to partial employment of such big population, human resources are not being fully utilised. This huge unskilled population impedes the wheel of development. It is also a challenge to train such huge population for skilled employment. The advancement of technology has replaced human labour. There are various works which used to be done by labourers but are now being easily executed through technology. One machine overtakes the work of many human labourers. New India has great emphasis on technology. It is imperative to reach the level of global development. Balancing out between technology and big population is a huge challenge.

Connecting half of the world, that is women, to nation building is another major challenge. The question of women presents us with a good parameter to assess new India as well as the idea of freedom. No nation has ever developed itself by neglecting the contribution of women. The patriarchal system prevailing in Indian society kept women inside the walls of homes only. Though their situation has improved in comparison to the past, their full potential is yet to be realised.

Even after all these impediments the conception of new India has helped in extending the spirit of Indian independence. The conception of new India is logical as well as well planned. Many schemes are helpful in achieving the goal of new India, namely Jan Dhan Yojana, Skill India- to train human resources, Food Security Mission- to get rid of malnutrition and E-governance and Digital India- to eliminate corruption and nepotism.

The youth is the connecting link between new India and Indian freedom. The average age of Indian population is 28 years. Facilitating youths' participation in new India means giving them full opportunities of freedom. It is also notable that Independence and "swaadheenta" are different concepts, according to Gandhiji. While "swaadheenta" focuses on developing own consciousness, independence emphasizes on materialistic freedom. The ideas of self control and satisfaction differentiate between the two. If this Gandhian element is added to new India, it will become more holistic.

products. If you look into this incident minutely, one thing will strike you and that is the young man living in America adhering to that country's life-style and ideology, who left India many years ago but, knows the finer details about his village, knows about the challenges and still is emotionally attached to his village. This seems to be the reason as to how he could develop this App which is most suited to needs of the village.

A sense of belonging towards the village and towards one's roots and also a spirit to show and do something is naturally there in each and every Indian.

But, sometimes because of time, sometimes because of distance and at times because of situations that spirit gets faded but just with a touch of a tiny spark, everything re-emerges which takes one back to old memories. We should also check if such a thing has happened in our case too whether circumstances, situations, distances have made us alien, whether dust has gathered over our determinations.

Do think.

Santoshji, many - many thanks for your phone call.

Actually, Pandharpur Wari is an amazing journey in itself. Friends, Ashadhi Ekadashi, which fell on 23rd July, is celebrated as a day of grand transformation of Pandharpur Wari. Pandharpur is a holy town in Solapur district in Maharashtra. About 15-20 days before Ashadhi Ekadashi warkari or pilgrims start the Pandharpur Yatra on foot. This yatra (journey) is known as Wari and lakhs of warkaris join this. Wooden foot wear or padukas of great saints like Saint Gyaneshwar and Saint Tukaram are placed in a palki and pilgrims begin their pilgrimage chanting "Vitthal-Vitthal". Pilgrims go to have a darshan of Vitthal who is also known as Vithoba or Pandurang. Lord Vitthal safeguards the interests of the poor, the deprived ones and the ones who are suffering. People from Maharashtra, Karnataka, Goa, Andhra Pradesh, Telengana have deep devotion and respect for Vitthal.

Visiting Vithoba temple in Pandharpur and its grandeur, beauty and spiritual bliss is a unique experience in itself. I request the listeners of "Mann Ki Baat" to visit Pandharpur Wari at least once, whenever they get a chance. Innumerable saints like Gyaneshwar, Namdev, Eknath, Ram Dass, Tukaram are relevant even today in educating the masses. They are imparting energy to fight against superstition in each and every corner across the country. May they be compositions like Bharud (भारुड) or Abhang (अभंग), we get a great message of amity, love and brotherhood. We get the mantra to enable the society to fight against blind-faith through devotion and bhakti. These were the people who, at times restrained and corrected the society, even showed a mirror and ensured that old evil traditions get eradicated from the society and that people inculcated a culture of compassion, equality and righteousness. Our mother India is a land full of gems and treasures and the tradition of these great saints that adorned our land are at the same level as the great men who dedicated and sacrificed their lives for our Mother India. One such great man has been Lok Manya Tilak who has left a very deep impression on the hearts of a large number of Indians. We remember and pay our homage to Tilak ji on his birth anniversary on 23rd July and his death anniversary on 1st August.

Lokmanya Tilak was full of courage and self-confidence. He had the courage to show a mirror to the British about their wrong doings. The British were so afraid of Lok Manya Tilak that they tried to charge him of sedition thrice in two decades; this is no small thing. I want to narrate an interesting incident to the countrymen which is connected with Lokmanya Tilak and his statue in Ahmedabad. When in October 1916, Lokmanya Tilak ji came to Ahmedabad, more than 40,000 people at that time gave him a welcome and during that very visit, Sardar Vallabh Bhai Patel had a chance to talk to him. Sardar Vallabh Bhai Patel was greatly impressed by Lokmanya Tilakji. When on August 1 1920, Lokmanya Tilakji passed away, Patel ji had decided then itself that he would build his statue in Ahmedabad. Sardar Vallabh Bhai Patel was elected the Mayor of Ahmedabad municipi-pal corporation and he immediately selected Victoria Garden as a venue for Lokmanya Tilak's memorial and this was the very Victoria Garden which was named after the British Queen. The British were naturally not happy with this and the collector continually kept denying permission. But Sardar Saheb was also Sardar Saheb after all, he was persistent and had remarked that he might have to give up on his post but Lokmanya Tilakji's statue would certainly be built there. Finally, the statue got built and Sardar Saheb got it unveiled by none other than Mahatma Gandhi on 28th February, 1929; and the most interesting point is that during that inaugural ceremony revered Bapuji said that with the coming of Sardar Patel, Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation has not only got a man but it has got the strength on the basis of which, building the statue of Tilakji has become possible. And my dear countrymen, the speciality about this statue is that this is a rare statue of Tilakji in which he is sitting in a chair and in this "Swaraj is our birthright" ("Swaraj Hamara Janma Sidhha Adhikar Hai") is inscribed right below Tilakji's statue. And this all happened during the period of British rule. Tradition of publicly celebrating Ganesh Utsav was also initiated with the efforts of Lok Manya Tilakji. The celebration of Ganesh Utsav publicly had become an effective medium in promoting a spirit of social awakening, integration, amity and equality among the masses besides projecting a sense of dedication and festivity in them. This was the period when there was a need for people to get united in the fight against the British; these festivals, by breaking the barriers of casteism and communalism served the purpose of uniting all. Such events gained more popularity with the passage of time. Thus, it becomes clear that our younger generations still care for the brave heroes of our ancient past, its heritage and history. Today, you can see Ganesh pandals in almost every street of various cities. All families in that street collectively organize these pandals. This is an excellent chance for our youth wherein they can learn qualities of leadership and organization and inculcate these in themselves.

My dear countrymen! I had requested last time too and now, while remembering Lokmanya Tilak, I will once again urge all of you to celebrate Ganesh Utsav with great enthusiasm and fervour whole heartedly but insist on keeping these celebrations eco-friendly. Right from Ganesh idol to all decorative material everything ought to be eco friendly and I will appreciate that separate competitions be organized in each city, prizes be awarded for these; and I will like that eco friendly items related to Ganesh Utsav are displayed for wider publicity on My Gov and Narendra Modi App.

I will surely send your ideas and efforts to the people. Lokmanya Tilak evoked self-confidence amongst our countrymen and gave the slogan "Swaraj is our birth right and I shall have it." Today is the time to say that Good Governance is our birth right and we will have it.

Every Indian should have access to good governance and positive results of development. It is the factoring in of this outreach that will create a new India. After 50 years of Tilak's birth, on the same day i.e. on July 23, another son of Mother India was born, who sacrificed his life so that his countrymen could breathe freely in an atmosphere of freedom. I am talking about none other than Chandrasekhar Azad. Where will you find a young man in India who will not be inspired listening to these lines- Sarfaroshi ki tamanna ab hamare dil mein hai Dekhna hai zor kitna baazue-qaatil mein hai (The desire for martyrdom is now in our hearts Let us see the strength in the arms of my executioner)

These lines inspired many young people like Ashfaq Ullah Khan, Bhagat Singh, Chandra-shekhar Azad and many others. Azad's courage and passion for freedom inspired the youth of the day. Chandrashekhar Azad put his life on the stake, but he never bowed in front of the foreign rule. It was my privilege and good fortune that I had the opportunity of going to Chandrasekhar Azad's native village of Alirajpur in Madhya Pradesh. I had the opportunity to pay homage in Chandrashekhar Azad Park in Allahabad, Chandrasekhar Azad Ji was a brave man who did not wish to die by the bullet of foreigners - he wished to fight for independence as a free man and if he had to die, he wished to remain a free man! This is what was so special about him. Once again, I bow and pay tributes to the two great sons of Bharat Mata - Lokmanya Tilakji and Chandrasekhar Azad ji.

Just a few days ago, in the Junior Under-20 World Athletics Championship in Finland, India's brave daughter and a farmer's daughter Hima Das made history by winning the gold medal in the 400-meter race event. Ekta Bhyan, another daughter of the country, in response to my letter, has emailed me from Indonesia, where she is now preparing for the Asian Games. Ekta in her e-mail writes - 'The most important moment in the life of any athlete is that when he or she holds the tricolor and I am proud that I could do that.' Ekta, we all are proud of you. You have brought glory to the Nation. Ekta has won the gold and bronze medals in World Para Athletics Grand Prix 2018 held in Tunisia. Her achievement is all the more special because she has made the imposing challenges in her life the key to her success.

Daughter Ekta Bhyan in 2003, lost the use of half of her lower body due to road accident, but this daughter did not lose courage and made herself all the more stronger to perform this grand feat. Another Divyang, Yogesh Qathuniaji, has won the gold medal in the discus throw in Para Athletics Grand Prix in Berlin and in the process bettered the world record, along with Sundar Singh Gurjar who also won the gold medal in javelin. I salute Ekta Bhyanji, Yogesh Qathuniaji and Sundar Singh Ji, all of you for your fortitude and passion, and congratulate you! May you go further than these successes, keep on playing and keep on blooming.

My dear countrymen, the month of August is significant because it is filled with historically important dates and festivals, but due to the weather sometimes sickness also enters the house. I wish all of you best wishes for good health, for this month of August imbued with the spirit of patriotism and for many festivals that have continued over centuries. We will meet once again for 'Mann Ki Baat' next time.

Many Many Thanks.
