INDIA-AFRICA FRIENDSHIP SCALES NEW HEIGHTS

Mohit Mishra

India shares a deep bond of friendship with Africa. They have a cultural and commercial relationship going back to over three thousand years. During the dark ages of colonialism, they had anticolonial ties. Mahatma Gandhi became the guiding force for both India and Africa. He inspired Africa to freedom and justice. Gandhiji spent 21 years of his life in the continent and led his first non-cooperation movement there. After India and African nations got independence from colonial rule, there was a shift from the historical anti colonial ties to productive political, economic and development partnerships. Cultural connect, colonial past and development hurdles are some factors that bring each other much closer.

If this is to be a century of nations, rising together in freedom and equality; if this is to be an age when the light of opportunity dawns on all humans; if this is a time when our planet has a more hopeful future; then all of this magnificent continent of Africa must walk in step with the rest of the world. India will work with you and for you. Our partnership will build instruments of empowerment in Africa. We will stand in solidarity with your endeavours, in transparency, with respect and on the principle of equality. We will speak for you, and with you.

PM Modi at Parliament of Uganda, 25th July 2018

Africa has been the NDA government's top priority in foreign as well as economic policy matters. The present Government hosted all 54 countries - over 40 at Heads of State and Government level - at the third Africa-India

Forum Summit in New Delhi in October 2015. 32 Heads of State or Government from Africa have visited India in the last four years. Also in the past four years, Indian President, Vice President and Prime Minister have visited more than 25 countries in Africa. These visits have underlined the priorities of the Modi Government to revitalise India's economic relations with Africa. India's commodity trade with Africa in 2015-16 was higher than its commodity trade with the United States of America. India is now the fifth largest country investing in the continent, with investments over the past twenty years amounting to $54 billion. Africa - India trade has doubled in the last five years to reach nearly $72 billion in 2014-15. In the backdrop of these efforts by the Government to intensify its engagement and strengthen relations with the continent, the Prime Minister recently undertook a three nation tour to Africa. In this article, we will discuss in details the take aways of his State visit to Rwanda, Uganda and South Africa.

Rwanda

Rwanda is one of Africa's fastest growing economies. The bilateral ties between India and Rwanda have grown steadily over the years. Rwanda officially opened its mission in New Delhi in 1999 whereas India has now taken a decision to open a diplomatic mission in Kigali, the capital of Rwanda. Prime Minister Mr Modi paid a two day State Visit to the country from 23-24 July, 2018. This

CAREER IN DATA SCIENCE

Usha Albuquerque & Nidhi Prasad

"Big data is at the foundation of all the megatrends that are happening."

Chris Lynch, Vertica Systems

Data is everywhere. In fact, the amount of digital data that exists is growing at a rapid rate, and changing the way we live. This is a field that didn't even exist 20 years back. According to an article by Forbes Magazine, Data is growing faster than ever before and by the year 2020; about 1.7 megabytes of new information will be created every second for every human being on the planet. Data Science as a field is turning many heads in the technology and business spaces.

Data is essentially just raw bits of Information Science, on the other hand, can be used to mean any group of activities following a scientific method. Thus, Data Science is a field that uses scientific methods on large chunks of data. This data is accumulated, arranged and analysed to examine its effect on businesses.

Data Science is all about uncovering findings from data. It is a field that comprises of everything related to data cleansing, analysis and preparation. Data science is a multidisciplinary blend of various tools, algorithms, and machine learning principles with the goal to discover hidden patterns from the raw data. It is the scientific process of shifting and gathering data through the use of various techniques and tools and deriving business insights from raw data to support decision making. Those who know how to manage this tsunami of information, spot patterns within it and draw conclusions and insights are called data scientists or data analysts.

Magic of data science is everywhere - from the votes

we give in political elections to the pictures we upload on Instagram, to Internet Search, Face Book, gaming, and price comparison on websites - every bit of information is data. With so much data and information available, organizations are focusing more and more on using the insights from this data to evaluate progress, build solutions and make decisions.

Data Science is being called the 'hottest job of the 21st century'. It is making its presence felt everywhere, and according to McKinsey & Company, Big data will become a key basis of competition, underpinning new waves of productivity growth, innovation, and consumer surplus.

Difference between Data Science, Big Data and Data Analytics?

Since all three terms deal with the word 'data', there is a lot of confusion surrounding them. These three terms are not the same and there are many differences between the three different terms.

- ♦ Data Science is a science or study of data, and involves creating algorithms and models to extract knowledge from data.
- ♦ Data Analytics refers to the analysis of data for drawing conclusions out of it. It is mainly used by businesses to make strategic decisions and solve problems.
- ♦ Big Data is basically a term that describes large amounts of data. It is not a field in itself, but the analysis of big data is used in many different fields and to make better decisions by businesses.

Thus, data scientists build the tools and algorithms that can be used to make sense of data, including big data. For this, they utilise technology, machine learning and was the first ever visit by an Indian Prime Minister to Rwanda. Earlier, the President of Rwanda Mr Paul Kagame had visited New Delhi this year to participate in the founding conference of the International Solar Alliance. Rwanda is a signatory to the NDA Government's ambitious 'International Solar Alliance' framework agreement, an endeavour of now over 121 countries to tap solar energy to reduce dependence on fossil fuels. During the Prime Minister's visit, both the leaders held bilateral delegation level talks over a range of issues including bilateral trade and investment, tourism, health, education and energy. They reviewed the entire gamut of bilateral cooperation. Terrorism figured during the bilateral discussions and both the sides stressed that there could be no justification for any act of terrorism and underlined their shared concerns on the menace of cross-border terrorism. They stressed the importance of international efforts to prevent and economic cooperation between the two countries, MoU on Dairy Co-operation between ICAR(National Dairy Research Institute), India and Rwanda Agriculture and Animal Resources Development Board, Kigali, MoU between Central Leather Research Institute (CLRI), India and National Industrial Research and Development Agency (NIRDA), Rwanda, MoU on Cultural Exchange, Line of Credit or LoC agreements of US$ 100 million for development of Industrial Parks and expansion of Kigali SEZ and LoC agreements of US $100 million for financing components of its Agriculture Project Schemes. Rwanda has benefitted from projects implemented under the Indian Lines of Credit through EXIM Bank, of nearly $ 400 million in the sectors of Hydropower, Agriculture, Skill Development, Infrastructure, and Solar Electrification).

INDIA- AFRICA...

Uganda

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi reached Kampala, the capital of Uganda on the second leg of his three nation tour to Africa. This was the first visit by an Indian Prime Minister in 21 ensive Convention on International Terrorism (CCIT). The four agreements that were signed during the visit included an MoU on Defence Cooperation and an MoU on Material Testing Laboratory. The cooperation between India and Uganda in defence matters has been growing steadily. Uganda People's Defence Force get training in various Indian Army training institutions under the Indian Technical and Economic Cooperation. An Indian Military Training Team is also deployed in Uganda's Senior Command and Staff College in Kimaka. Mr Modi announced two Lines of credit, one of 141 million US dollars for electricity lines and the second, of 64 million US dollars for agriculture and dairy production. He also announced India's contribution to establishment of Mahatma Gandhi Heritage Centre at Jinja, at the source of River Nile, where a portion of the ashes of Mahatma Gandhi were immersed.

During the visit, Prime Minister Modi addressed the Ugandan Parliament. This was the first time that an Indian Prime Minister had addressed the Ugandan Parliament. Speaking to the Parliamentarians, Mr Modi underlined 10 principles that will continue guiding India's engagement with Africa.

1. Africa to be at the top of India's priorities. Engagement with Africa to be sustained and regular.
2. Development partnership to be guided by Africa's priorities. India to build as much local capacity and create as many local opportunities as possible.
3. India to keep its markets open and make it easier and more attractive for Africa. All to support its industry to invest in African countries.
4. India to harness its experience with digital revolution to support Africa's development; improve delivery of public services; extend education and health; spread digital literacy; expand financial inclusion; and mainstream the marginalised.
5. Africa has 60 per cent of the world's arable land, but produces just 10 per cent of the global output. India to extend its support to improve Africa's agriculture.
6. India to work with Africa to ensure a just international climate order; to preserve their biodiversity; and, adopt clean and efficient energy sources.
7. India and Africa to strengthen their cooperation and mutual capabilities in combating terrorism and extremism; keeping their cyberspace safe and secure; and, supporting the UN in

Girinka Programme

In Rwanda, the Girinka Programme has been started by President Paul Kagame in response to the alarmingly high rate of childhood malnutrition and as a way to accelerate poverty reduction and integrate livestock and crop farming. The word Girinka can be translated as 'may you have a cow' and describes a centuries-old cultural practice in Rwanda whereby a cow was given by one person to another, as a sign of respect and gratitude. The program is based on the premise that providing a dairy cow to poor Girinka Programme transforms livelihoods, reconciles communities improving agricultural productivity through the use of manure as fertilizers which would lead to improving soil quality and reducing erosion through the planting of grasses and trees. Since its introduction in 2006 hundreds of thousands have received cows through the Girinka program. By June 2016, a total of 248,566 cows had been distributed to poor households. The program has contributed to an increase in agricultural production in Rwanda - especially milk production and products, reduced malnutrition and increased incomes.

advancing and keeping peace;

8. India to work with African nations to keep the oceans open and free for the benefit of all nations. The world needs cooperation and not competition in the eastern shores of Africa and the eastern Indian Ocean. That is why India's vision of Indian Ocean Security is cooperative and inclusive, rooted in security and growth for all in the region.
9. India to work with African nations to ensure that the continent does not once again turn into a theatre of rival ambitions, but becomes a nursery for the aspirations of Africa's youth.
10. Both India and Africa to work together for a just, representative and democratic global order that has a voice and a role for one-third of humanity that lives in the two regions. India's own quest for reforms in the global institutions is incomplete without an equal place for Africa.

South Africa

The visit of Prime Minister Mr Modi to South Africa was in the context of BRICS ((Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa) Summit whose theme for this year was 'BRICS in Africa'. Both countries are celebrating 21 years of strategic partnership. The Prime Minister held bilateral meeting with the South African President Cyril Ramaphosa on the sidelines of the two-day summit and the two leaders discussed ways to expand the bilateral ties in a number of sectors, including trade and investment, information technology and defence. Both the countries inked three MoUs on cooperation in exploration and use of outer space for peaceful purposes, the setting up of a 'Gandhi-Mandela Centre of Specialisation for Artisan Skills', and agricultural research and education. India and South Africa, being proud inheritors of legacies of Mahatma Gandhi and Nelson

Mandela, released a stamp commemorating the two iconic personalities.

Conclusion:

Though India and Africa share historical and cultural linkages, but for many years the relations could not take a definite shape. In present regime, India-Africa ties have gained momentum where the thrust is on development and economic growth of both the partners. As India strives for accelerated economic growth, the need for African resources is bound to grow. However, the vision of India's policy towards Africa is not of an extractor but of a collaborator with enlightened approach. New Delhi helps the African nations, that are also on the path of industrialization, to mine their resources, do the value addition and create employment. Africa requires India's financial and technological support to accelerate its economic growth. Both sides also need backing of each other in the United Nations on UN Security Council reforms. Thus, both seek consolidation and expansion of close geopolitical relation-ship and intensification of development partnership and are making concerted efforts to achieve it. As more and more African countries are democratising, they look upon India as a successful model of a vibrant democracy from which they can learn constitutionalism, federalism, drafting of rights and charters. In this context, India becomes a role model for the African countries. Today, India and Africa stand on the threshold of a future of great promise. As both have over two thirds of their populations under the age of 35 years, the early decades of the 21st century provides India and Africa a plethora of new opportunities and the unity of aspirations of the young population. It is the right time to tap it.

mathematical principles. On the other hand, data analysts apply these models to analyse business data of all kinds to help make smarter business decisions.

Generally, a data scientist needs to know what could be the output of the big data he/she is analysing. He/she also needs to have a clearly defined plan on how the output can be achieved with the available resources and time. Most of all the data scientists must know the reason behind his attempt to analyse the big data.

To achieve all of the above, on any given day, a data scientist may be required to:

- ♦ Collect huge data from multiple sources.
- ♦ Perform research on the messy data available and frame questions that need to be answered by the analysis on the data collected.
- ♦ Make use of high-end analytics programmes, machine learning and statistical methods to organize data into a predictive model.
- ♦ Clean the huge volume of data to discard irrelevant information
- ♦ Explore and analyze the data to determine the trends, opportunities and also weaknesses
- ♦ Produce data-driven solutions to conquer the most pressing challenges
- ♦ Invent new algorithms, if required, to solve problems
- ♦ Build new tools to speed work
- ♦ Communicate the predictions from the data analysed through data visualizations and reports
- ♦ Recommend effective changes for the existing strategies to companies

ELIGIBILITY

Successful data scientists come from a number of different disciplines: engineering, statistics, econometrics, computer science, physics, applied mathematics, and other interrelated disciplines. While programming and statistical expertise is the foundation for any data scientist, a strong background in business and strategy can help move your career forward.

SKILLS REQUIRED -

Due to its multi-disciplinary nature, Data Science requires you to have a mix of technical and business skills including knowledge of mathematics, statistics, computer science and hacking/coding, coupled with substantial expertise in business or a field of science. Knowledge about the concepts of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning are also beneficial.

A data analyst requires to have-

- ♦ Strong analytical skills
- ♦ Effective communication & presentation skills are also critical for a data analyst as this aids the management and understanding of data & paves way for good decisions.
- ♦ Basic use of statistical tools and fast mathematical calculations
- ♦ Ability to work with large numbers and calculations
- ♦ Good grasp of programming languages like Java, Perl, C/C++, Python, etc.
- ♦ Extensive knowledge of data analytics software like SAS, R, Hadoop and Tableau.
- ♦ Familiarity with SQL database techniques.
- ♦ Critical reasoning skills and problem-solving ability
- ♦ Data visualization and communication ability

SCOPE

Data scientists are in demand, and candidates with the right mix of skills will be rewarded with a lucrative career. The demand for data scientists is huge, the number is said to be much higher than the available candidates.

Data scientist roles are not constrained to one dominant industry. Financial services, manufacturing and logistics sectors are all trending as emerging markets, together with a recent growth in popularity of government-focused data scientist roles. However, we expect the role of the data scientist to be ubiquitous across all industries. That said, companies are looking for industry-specific experience, so make sure you research your preferred sector and hone your skills to make your CV stand out to recruiters.

Job profiles such as Data Scientist, Data Analyst, Big Data Engineer, and Statistician are being largely hunted by companies.

Data Science is big deal across many industries, from retail to government to biotechnology to sectors like :

- ♦ Energy
- ♦ Finance
- ♦ Gaming and hospitality
- ♦ Government
- ♦ Health care
- ♦ Insurance
- ♦ Internet
- ♦ Manufacturing
- ♦ Pharmaceutical
- ♦ Retail
- ♦ Telecom
- ♦ Travel and transportation
- ♦ Utilities

Some of the top Indian companies that hire data scientists-

- ♦ Service-based company- Fractal Analytics, Mu Sigma, Citibank, HCL, Uber, Goldman Sachs, IBM, JPMorgan Chase, Accenture, KPMG, E & Y & Capgemini.
- ♦ Product-based company- Amazon, Flipkart, Paytm, Haptik etc
- ♦ SaaS-based company- Wingify, WebEngage, etc.

Companies have recognized the immense business value which can be delivered using data. Google, Amazon, Face-book, Baidu are just some of the companies which have made investments in data products

SOME OF THE COLLEGES OFFERING COURSES IN DATA SCIENCE

Thus, to build a career as a Data Scientist, degrees in Mathematics, Statistics, Economics, Engineering, Computer Science, etc. can help form a good base. Some of the top undergraduate colleges offering degrees in Statistics, Mathematics, Economics, Computer science which helps in building base for a career in Data Science:

- ♦ Indian Statistical Institute (ISI), multiple locations
- ♦ Delhi University (Various colleges)
- ♦ IIT Kanpur offers B.Tech (various branches), B.S. in Mathematics and Scientific Computing
- ♦ Indian Institute of Science Education and Research, Multiple locations offers Integrated course BS-MS program for science befitted students.

For post-graduation, you could pursue a postgraduate degree in business analytics, big data, data science, or any of the other fields mentioned before (Mathematics, Statistics, Computer Science, etc.)

Some top PG Institutes to build a career in Data Science/ Data Analytics

- ♦ Indian School of Business (ISB), Hyderabad offers Certificate in Business Analytics (CBA)
- ♦ IIM Bangalore- offers Program in Business Analytics and Intelligence
- ♦ IIM Calcutta offers Advance program in data science
- ♦ IIT Kharagpur (ISI, IIT Kharagpur and IIM Calcutta joint program offer Post Graduate Diploma in Business Analytics
- ♦ IIM Lucknow offers Certificate program in business analytics for executives (CPBAE)
- ♦ IIT Bombay offers PG Diploma in Business Analytics
- ♦ S.P Jain School of Global Management offers Certificate Program in Big Data and Visual Analytics
- ♦ National Institute of Securities Markets (NISM) offers PG Diploma in Data Science

Some popular data science certifications include the following:

- ♦ Certified Analytics Professional (CAP) - The Cap Program
- ♦ Certified Specialist in Predictive Analytics (CSPA) - The CAS Institute
- ♦ Cloudera Certified Professional: CCP Data Engineer - Cloudera
- ♦ IAPA Analytics Credentials - IAPA
- ♦ SAS Academy for Data Science - SAS Institute
- ♦ SAS Certified Big Data Professional / Data Scientist - SAS Institute
- ♦ Simplilearn Data Science Certification Training - Simplilearn
- ♦ Teradata Aster Analytics Certification - Teradata

There are a lot of people in India who are already very well-trained with quantitative, mathematical, and statistical skills. But if you really want to be a data scientist, you need cutting-edge skills as Data are becoming the new raw material of business.

3 strategies useful for making career in Data Science are:

- ♦ Start building and upgrading your skills by getting trained from the experts in the industry.
- ♦ Do live projects so that this will add a plus point to your resume while showing your skills over the domain.
- ♦ And get hired.

Prime Minister reviews performance of key infrastructure sectors of Transport and Housing

Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, has reviewed progress of key infrastructure sectors of roads, PMGSY, rural housing, urban housing, railways, airports and ports. In course of the presentation made by CEO NITI Aayog, Shri Amitabh Kant, it was noted that the pace of road construction has picked up significantly. The average road length constructed per day in FY 17-18 was 26.93 km, as compared to 11.67 km in FY 13-14.

The Prime Minister was informed about progress made in digitisation of the transport sector. Over 24 lakh RFID tags have been issued so far, and over 22 percent of toll revenue now comes from electronic toll collection. The "Sukhad Yatra" App, which provides information about road conditions, and facilitates lodging of complaints, has seen over one lakh downloads so far. The Prime Minister called for faster progress in electronic toll collection. Under the Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana, rural roads have now connected 88 percent of all eligible habitations. Over 44,000 villages have been connected in the period from 2014 to 2018, as compared to about 35,000 in the preceding four year period. The "MeriSadak" App has been launched in 10 regional languages, and has seen 9.76 lakh downloads so far. GIS Mapping of roads is underway, and 20 States have so far been hosted on the Geospatial Rural Road Information System (GRRIS). Green technologies, and non-conventional materials such as waste plastic and fly ash, are being used in rural road construction.

In the railways sector, there has been significant addition in capacity and rolling stock. Additions in "new lines, doubling and gauge conversion" between 2014 and 2018, was to the extent of 9528 kilometres, which is 56 percent higher than the preceding four year period.

Similarly, in the aviation sector, passenger traffic has grown by over 62 percent in the four year period between 2014 and 2018, as against 18 percent in the preceding four year period. Under the UDAN scheme, 27 airports are now operational in tier 2 and tier 3 cities.

In the ports sector, traffic volume in major ports increased by 17 percent in the period between 2014 and 2018.

In the rural housing sector, the Prime Minister was informed that over one crore houses have been constructed in the period from 2014 to 2018, as compared to about 25 lakh houses in the preceding four year period. This has boosted employment in the housing sector and related construction industries. According to an independent study, the average construction completion time has dropped sharply, from 314 days in 2015-16, to 114 days in 2017-18. Stress is also being given to disaster resilience, and low cost housing design typologies. In urban housing, emphasis is being laid on new construction technologies. 54 lakh houses have been sanctioned under Pradhan Mantri Awaas Yojana (Urban), since the inception of the scheme.

■ NDA candidate Mr. Harivansh was elected as Deputy Chairman of the Rajya Sabha defeating opposition nominee Mr. B K Hariprasad. Mr. Harivansh polled 125 votes as against 105 by Mr. Hariprasad in a division of voting in the House. Mr. Harivansh, a veteran journalist, represents the state of Bihar in the House as a JD(U) member. Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi congratulated NDA candidate, Mr. Harivansh on his election to the post of Deputy Chairman of the Rajya Sabha. Speaking on the occasion, Mr. Modi said as a journalist, Mr. Harivansh worked to bring in social change. He also hoped that Mr. Harivansh's rich experience and social commitment will be of great use in the conduct of the House. The leader of Opposition Mr. Ghulam Nabi Azad said he expects that Mr. Harivansh will discharge his duties in a non-partisan manner and work for all sections of the society irrespective of caste, creed and religion.

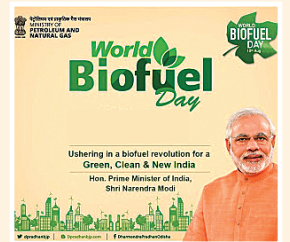

■ Parliament has passed the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Amendment Bill, 2018, with the Rajya Sabha approving it by voice vote on August 9, 2018. Lok Sabha has already passed it. The amended bill has done away with the provision of seeking prior permission for the arrest of those committing atrocities against Dalits. Replying to a debate on the bill in the Rajya Sabha, Social Justice and Empowerment Minister Mr. Thaawar Chand Gehlot said, the government is committed to the welfare of the poor and protecting the interests of the Dalits. He said, under the legislation, there is a provision of setting up special courts to deal with the cases related to atrocities against SCs and STs. Mr. Gehlot rejected opposition charges that the bill has been brought under any pressure saying the government has taken several steps for the welfare of the weaker sections of society.

■ The Union Cabinet has approved changes in triple talaq bill which include the provision of granting bail to men found guilty of giving instant triple talaq to their wives. Talking to reporters after cabinet meeting in New Delhi, Law Minister Mr. Ravi Shankar Prasad said, the cabinet has approved three amendments to the Muslim Women Protection of Rights on Marriage Bill which has been cleared by Lok Sabha and pending approval of Rajya Sabha.

■ World Biofuel Day was observed on 10th August, 2018. On the occasion, Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi addressed a diverse gathering consisting of farmers, scientists, entrepreneurs, students, government officials and legislators in New Delhi. Biofuels can help reduce import dependency on crude oil. They can contribute to a cleaner environment, generate additional income for farmers and generate employment in rural areas. World Biofuel Day is observed every year on 10th August to create awareness about the importance of non-fossil fuels as an alternative to conventional fossil fuels and to highlight the various efforts made by the Government in the biofuel sector. The biofuels programme is also in synergy with the government initiatives for Make in India, Swachh Bharat and enhancing farmers' income.
