NATIONAL REGISTER OF CITIZENS AND ITS SIGNIFICANCE

Arun Khurana & Dr. P. C. Sinha

The National Register of Citizens (NRC) is a record of all the legal citizens of the country. It was basically a serialized list of houses and property holdings in every Indian village with the number of people residing in them along with their names. The Government then instructed the records to be stored in the offices of the Deputy Commissioners and Sub-Divisional Officers. Later the data were collected in 1960s by NRC data was handed over the police. In 1980s, demands slowly began to rise about the updating in the State of Assam. The primary reason was that natives began to feel that illegal foreigners were dominating their land, leading to a protest movement in Assam. In other words, NRC is a list of Indian citizens which is meant to decide who is a bonafide Indian citizen and those who fail to enlist in the register will be deemed illegal migrants. First list was made in 1951 across India according to the census of that year. It is for the first time that it is being updated and that too only in Assam. Now, it is not linked to census but one has to link oneself to a family member whose name had appeared either in the NRC of 1951, or to any of the state's electoral rolls prepared till midnight of 24th March, 1971. The year of 1971 is chosen, as it was agreed in Assam Accord 1985. If the applicant's name is not on any of these lists, he can produce any of the 12 other documents dated up to March 24, 1971, like: land or tenancy record; citizenship certificate; or permanent residential certificate; or passport or court records; or refugee registration certificate. All the names appearing in the NRC, 1951, or any of the Electoral Rolls up to the midnight of 24th March 1971 together are called "Legacy Data". Thus, there are two requirements for inclusion in updated NRC, existence of a person's name in the pre-1971 period and providing linkage with that person. The two provisions governing NRC update in Assam are 'The Citizenship Act, 1955 and The Citizenship (Registration of Citizens and Issue of National Identity Cards) Rules, 2003.

The fact remains that the demands to update the 'NRC of 1951' were first raised by the All Assam Students' Union (AASU) and Assam Gana Parishad more than three decades ago. The aforementioned organizations had submitted a memorandum to the Centre on January 18, 1980, two months after launching the 'Anti-illegal Foreigners Assam Movement'. On November 17, 1999, at an official-level tripartite meeting to review the implementation of the 'Assam Accord', a decision was taken that the NRC would be updated and the Centre sanctioned Rs 20 lakh for the purpose and released

Civil Services interview session is a truly interesting session with the UPSC board during which you are going to be engaged by the board for half an hour or so on a variety of topics to elicit your views, your reactions, responses or solutions as the case may be. Though there is no defined boundary which confines the interview board to raise issues, there does exist an element of certainty about likely areas from where questions will be asked. These areas are:

1. Governance and administrative issues
2. Issues relating to recent national, international affairs
3. Environmental issues
4. Economic issues

5. Issues relating to health, social justice etc.
Apart from the above mentioned issues, a major area on which questions will be raised is the DAF (Detailed Application Form), submitted by the candidate in advance. Thus, preparing for questions raised on the basis of information furnished by you in your DAF is an essential part of your interview preparation. In a way, DAF is like your horoscope to predict your personality because it contains vital information about you, which helps the board in assessing the kind of person you are, based on your hobbies, interests, academic achievements, job profiles given in your DAF by you.

Why DAF is important in Civil Services Interview? Your DAF contains vital information about you which has been furnished about you only. The interview board gets an inside view into your background through DAF. It lets the board know about your personal details like your name, place of birth, district and state you belong to, your parental profession and their income, your educational background, your interests in life, recent jobs undertaken by you, your employers' details, your choice and preferences for services, your preferences for state cadres for IAS, IPS and many more things. This vast information provided in your DAF becomes an important source of raising questions

Rs 5 lakh of it to start the exercise. Later, the then Prime Minister Manmohan Singh led government took the final decision to update NRC on May 5, 2005. Thereafter, the Government created a Directorate for updating the NRC and the process of computerization of the voters' list up to 1971 and that of the NRC of 1951 began.

NRC Process: Objectives and Implications for Future

The preparation of NRC is the most extensive citizen engaging exercise, which touches the life of every resident of Assam. It is part of the action for the fulfilment of the 'Assam Accord' and understanding arrived in a tripartite meeting held in 2005. The National Register of Citizens (NRC), Assam, will contain the names of genuine Indian citizens and will help the government to check illegal immigration. The publication of the first draft of the updated National Register of Citizens (NRC) of Assam by the Office of the State Coordinator of NRC on December 31, 2017, is an important milestone in dealing with the influx of illegal migrants, particularly from Bangladesh into that state.

The objective behind updating and publishing the 1951 NRC is to compile a list of the names of genuine Indian citizens residing in Assam and, in the process, detect foreigners, particularly Bangladeshis, who may have illegally entered the state after March 24, 1971. As per the final draft NRC list, published on July 30, 2018, of the 3.29 crore residents of Assam who applied for the inclusion of their names in the NRC by submitting legacy documents, 2.89 crore names have been included as citizens in the initial list. The names of 40,70,707 people did not figure in the list. Of these, 37,59,630 names have been rejected and the remaining 2,48,077 are on hold and have got a "D-voter" tag, implying, short for 'dubious' or 'doubtful'. This is a category of voters disenfranchised by the government for lack of proper citizenship documents. D-voters are tried by special tribunals under the Foreigners' Act and if they fail to defend their citizenship claim, they are marked as declared foreigners and sent to any of six detention camps, which are within jails for criminals, for deportation. There were 91,206 declared foreigners as on December 31, 2017. The final list containing the names of all Indian citizens in Assam is expected to be published by the end of December 2018, after the disposal of all claims and objections in final registers at various levels.

Due to inherent political considerations and complicated issues involved, various successive Governments have been reluctant to update the 'NRC of 1951' in the past. The Hon'ble Supreme Court of India took up the matter in earnestness when the issue was brought before it. In the course of hearing a clutch of writ petitions filed by various parties, especially the one by Assam Public Works, an NGO, in July 2009, in which it had prayed for the deletion of illegal voters from the voters' list of Assam and sought for updating the NRC as part of that process. The Supreme Court, instructed Central and State Governments to begin the process of updating of the NRC in Assam. Accordingly, the Ministry of Home Affairs, in consultation with the Ministry of Law and Justice, issued the notification for starting the work of updating the NRC and appointed Mr. Prateek Hajela on January 28, 2014, as the State Coordinator for the NRC. In addition, the Supreme Court constituted a 'Committee' to take care of any clarification that would be required with regard to the modalities in the preparation of the NRC. Initially, the date for publication of the final draft of the NRC was set as on or before January 1, 2016. But upon the request of the State Coordinator, the Court agreed to extend the deadline by two years more.

Impact of NRC Draft Report

As anticipated by many, the publication of the first draft didn't lead to any untoward incident/protests. However, it has raised serious apprehensions in the minds of those whose names have not figured in the list, particularly in such cases where only some of the names of the members of a single family have appeared on the list while others' did not. The fact remains that the hope surrounding their names might appear in the next list, has kept them from protesting against the NRC. Given the fact that a proper documentation system has not been in existence in the country in this regard, for most of those whose names have not appeared in the NRC list, procuring the required documents, especially the birth certificates, in order to prove their relationships with persons whose names have appeared in the legacy documents and thus establish their legal citizenship rights, is undoubtedly fraught with difficulties. This is more so in the case of those very many settlers who came to Assam from other parts of the country. So far, only 1.5 lakh www.Jobriya.com by the board. In fact, while the interview process is on, most of the members keep reading your DAF all the time so that they can ask questions on your DAF when they get their chance. One must, however, note here that in order to make the assessment process unbiased, details relating to a candidate's caste, religion is not furnished to the four members of the board. Only the chairman of the board will know these details. This is to ensure that there is no caste bias against the candidate.

You and your DAF: A number of questions are going to be raised on diverse topics during the interview session. Generally the questions raised will be from areas of your own competence. The board members will not confront you with questions you are not expected to know, mostly they will frame questions which you should know either because of your personal background, or because any well read, alert candidate, who is aspiring for a job in civil services, must know. However, DAF presents a different challenge, viz; the expectations of the board will be very high from you to defend the information you have furnished in its various columns. You have to take responsibility for what you have written in the DAF. If you contradict yourself on your DAF related information, or you display ignorance about it, it is most certainly going to create a negative opinion about you. This opinion is based on two things. One, you have given a false information, or, two, you have not really pursued what you have furnished in your DAF. Always remember, if you are unable to answer a non-DAF related question, the board may not punish you, but, if you are unable to answer a question relating to your DAF in a proper way, the attitude of the board will be unforgiving. The board expects you, as a future civil servant, to be honest about furnishing information.

Categorisation of DAF details: Put together, there are 27 columns in the DAF to be filled out by the candidate. They can be put under the following categories.

(1). Personal details like name, age and native place, parents' name, profession and income, choice of centre for main examination, optional subject offered. (column 1 to 13)

- (2). Educational qualifications (column 14)
- (3). Employment details (column 15)
- (4). Details of extra curricular activities, distinctions, hobbies (column 18)
- (5). Preference for IAS/IPS in state cadres (column 20)
- (6). Order of preference for different services like IAS, IPS, IFS and allied services (column 21)
- (7). Previous details of appearing in UPSC exam. and their results (column 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26)
- (8). Documents required to be submitted (column 27)

Analysis of DAF related issues

1. Personal detail related column:

There is a great likelihood of your interview starting with questions relating to your name, importance of your date of birth, etc. Suppose you were born on 3rd March, they will ask you: Can you tell us about another public figure born on this day (because Ratan Tata was born on 3rd March). Besides, the place you were born in, areas around it, and the state to which you belong, will be closely read by the board and questions may be raised on them. A few questions on your parental profession, your experiences from their occupations can also be asked. If you have chosen a centre for your main exam away from your city or place of employment, curious questions can be raised on the reasons for the same. Suppose, you belong to Delhi and also work in Delhi, but, you wrote the main exam from Jammu centre, you will have to give a justification for it. Finally, your optional paper may come in for scrutiny. Apart from questions relating to your optional subject, they may also ask you about its relevance in the civil services. For example, suppose, you had Botany as your paper, they will ask you as to how your knowledge of Botany will be of help in your career as a civil servant.

2. Educational qualification related questions:

The board will be very keen to know about your educational background and achievements in school, college. They will watch for educational institutions you have attended, and check your awareness levels about these institutions. Secondly, they will see if you have any discontinuity in your educational career or any bad educational performance, and if yes, then they will look for reasons for the same. If your academic career is very bright, they may ask you as to why you want to join civil services despite such a brilliant academic record. Also, if you are a professional, say, a doctor, engineer or lawyer, they will ask you why you want a change in your core domain. These questions must be answered in a realistic manner. The board is more interested in knowing your real reasons for it and not your idealism about civil services. Therefore, give honest answers to such questions. If you fabricate an answer about these questions, you will be in a difficult spot.

3. Employment related columns:

If you have been employed earlier, or, you continue to be employed at the time of interview, there is no way you can escape being asked many questions on your job profile, your responsibilities in the organization, your company or the govt department you are working with. The difficult part of the question on this area will be as to why you seek to change your present job. Most candidates answer this question in the same way. Let us consider this question and its common answer: Member: You are already employed in a high position with good future prospects. Why then you want to join civil services?

Common answer to this question: Yes sir, I do agree that I am already placed in a good job, but the status, prestige and challenges offered by civil services attract me. Or,

Yes sir, true. But I want to serve the country and society which has given me so much.

This is a routine question and this type of answer is also a routine answer. The same question can be answered in a more impressive, convincing manner. Consider this kind of answer: Yes sir, I do enjoy a cozy job at present, but working in the private sector, I find that my job is socially irrelevant. I only work for the benefit of the organization and not of society. But in civil services, I can take up socially relevant tasks. This is my reason to be in civil services.

You can also relate your answer to inspiration derived from your parents, or your role model in civil services whose work has inspired you. This will make your answer both interesting and convincing.

Hobby related columns: If you have furnished information on your hobbies, be ready to be probed on your hobbies deeply by the board. In the first place, you should never mention a hobby in your DAF which you have not pursued passionately. Secondly, don't attempt to give theoretical answers on hobby related questions. Just demonstrate basic knowledge of your hobby and explain why you love to pursue it. Remember, hobby is your pastime, not your profession. Therefore, you are not expected to possess a specialized knowledge on your hobby. But at the same time, you must have clarity about what you pursue as your hobby. Concocted answers about your hobbies must be avoided at all costs.

IAS/IPS preference related questions:

You will have to furnish information regarding this only after you have qualified in the main exam. One must be careful about choosing the job preferences. If you have chosen IFS over IAS, they will ask you as to what attracts you to IFS and what are its present challenges. You must evince interest in international issues, current challenges in Indian foreign policy etc. If you have given IAS or IPS as your options, they may raise some situational questions as well. For instance, they may ask you: suppose you are posted as SP of a district and the students have blocked the railway tracks to press for their demands, how will you restore law and order in this situation. You need to display the qualities of a practical administrator in such situations. So, you should answer this question by suggesting many options in your mind, both of persuasive and coercive nature.

Some guidelines for defending your DAF:

I. Start preparing early: One should not wait for the mains result. Start preparing on DAF related issues quite early.

II. Prepare under expert guidance: Apart from self preparation, interacting with knowledgeable people will sharpen your DAF related answers.

III. Always defend yourself with honesty: Honesty is the best policy at the interview as elsewhere. Be honest about what you have to say about your DAF. Only this can make your interview safe and scoring.

NITI AAYOG RELEASES SDG INDIA INDEX BASELINE REPORT 2018

A SINGLE MEASURABLE INDEX TO MAP PROGRESS OF STATES & UTS TOWARDS 2030 SDGs

The NITI Aayog has on December 21, 2018 released the Baseline Report of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) India Index, which comprehensively documents the progress made by India's States and Union Territories towards implementing the 2030 SDG targets.

The SDG India Index, which was developed in collaboration with the Ministry of Statistics & Programme Implementation (MoSPI), Global Green Growth Institute and United Nations in India, was launched by NITI Aayog Vice-Chairman Dr Rajiv Kumar, NITI Aayog Members Dr Ramesh Chand, Dr VK Paul and Dr VK Saraswat, CEO Shri Amitabh Kant, UN Resident Coordinator Mr. Yuri Afanasiev and MoSPI Secretary & CSI Shri Pravin Srivastava.

NITI Aayog has the twin mandate to oversee the implementation of SDGs in the country, and also promote Competitive and Cooperative Federalism among States and UTs. The SDG India Index acts as a bridge between these mandates, aligning the SDGs with the Prime Minister's clarion call of SabkaSaath, SabkaVikas, which embodies the five Ps of the global SDG movement - people, planet, prosperity, partnership and peace.

The world is now into the third year of the SDG era. The SDGs are ambitious global development goals that address key aspects of universal well being across different socio-economic, cultural, geographical divisions and integrate the economic, social and environmental dimensions of development.

India's National Development Agenda is mirrored in the SDGs. India's progress in SDGs is crucial for the world as the country is home to about 17% of the world population.

The SDG India Index tracks progress of all States and UTs on 62 Priority Indicators selected by NITI Aayog, which in turn is guided by MoSPI's National Indicator Framework comprising 306 indicators and based on multiple-round consultations with Union Ministries/Departments and States/UTs.

The Index spans 13 out of 17 SDGs. Progress on SDGs 12, 13 & 14 could not be measured as relevant State/UT level data were not available and SDG 17 was left out as it focuses on international partnerships.

A composite score was computed between the range of 0-100 for each State and UT based on their aggregate performance across 13 SDGs, which indicates average performance of State/UT towards achieving 13 SDGs & their respective targets.

If a State/UT achieves a score of 100, it signifies that it has achieved the 2030 national targets. The higher the score of a State/UT, the greater the distance to target achieved. Classification Criteria based on SDG India Index Score is as follows:

- ♦ Aspirant: 0-49
- ♦ Performer: 50-64
- ♦ Front Runner: 65-99
- ♦ Achiever: 100

www.Jobriya.com

OVERALL	Aspirant	Assam, Bihar and Uttar Pradesh

	Front Runner	Himachal Pradesh, Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Chandigarh and Puducherry
	Achiever	NA

The SDG India Index is available via an interactive dashboard which has cross-sectoral relevance across policy, civil society, business and academia. The Index is designed to function as a tool for focussed policy dialogue, formulation and implementation, moving towards development action pegged to globally recognisable metrics of SDG framework.

The Index also supplements NITI Aayog's continuous efforts towards encouraging evidence-based policy making by supporting States/UTs to benchmark their progress, identifying priority areas and share best practices.

The SDG India Index will also help highlight crucial gaps related to tracking SDGs and the need for India to develop its statistical systems at National & State/UT levels. This shall lead to the index evolving and becoming more comprehensive over the coming years. The indicators shall be further refined and additional indicators will be added with improvement in data collection, reporting processes & methodology. NITI Aayog is also exploring potential for disaggregating data and developing capacity for real time monitoring and measuring incremental progress.

Overall Findings:

Particular	State	UT
SDG India Index Score Range	42-69	57-68
Top Performer/s	Himachal Pradesh & Kerala	Chandigarh
Aspirant	Uttar Pradesh	Dadra & Nagar Haveli

of the 5.5 lakh documents sent out for verification have been reportedly returned by other State Governments. Given these hurdles, and delays, it is to be seen that when the next iteration of the list would be published; how many names appear therein.

Other Remaining Issues with the NRC

An important issue which needs to be addressed is that what will happen to those people whose names do not figure in the final NRC and are declared illegal entrants into the State of Assam.

NRC and Other Possible Upcoming Challenges

Language Issue

The language of the Bangladeshis is different from what is spoken in Assam and Tripura. During the partition, the people of East Pakistan were given the option and some of them did not take that option. After that, too, they got the chance in 1965 and 1971. They did not come in then. So, why now? Now at the rate at which they have come, the Assamese people have become a minority.

Conflict with Citizenship Bill

The Citizenship (Amendment) Bill, 2016, was introduced in the Lok Sabha to amend the Citizenship Act, 1955, and raises several issues:

It makes illegal migrants eligible for citizenship based on their religion.

The bill has potentially interesting implications for asymmetric federalism. One of the proposals under consideration is to exempt Assam from the purview of the bill while making it applicable to the rest of India.

CONCLUSION

The publication of an updated NRC is indeed a positive step, as it puts to rest the wild speculations about the extent of the illegal migrant population in Assam, and the resultant polarization. While the NRC is being updated for Assam, there is no plan to prepare similar NRCs for the other States in the North-East India where also illegal migration continues to be a volatile issue. The need of the hour, therefore, is to allay all apprehensions presently in the minds of the people of Assam and take necessary steps to contain any adverse fallout after the publication of the final draft of the NRC. The Union Government has said the NRC exercise has been carried out in a totally objective, transparent and meticulous manner and a mechanism to deal with the grievances in a fair and objective manner is already in place. The complete draft NRC-Assam has been published on 30th July this year and the Supreme Court is monitoring the progress of NRC and the process of claims and objections on the draft NRC has started on 25th September this year and will remain open up to 31st of this month. The verification process will commence from 15th February next year in accordance with the directions of the Supreme Court.
