Doubling farmers income and raising the standard of life for the poor is the declared intent of Narendra Modi government that came to power in May 2014 and all its initiatives in the agriculture and rural sector are woven around these themes. The target year is 2022 because that is when the nation celebrates the 75th anniversary of India's independence from colonial rule and in effect, also because that would be the time required for things to take off the ground especially as implementation of most schemes and programmes is in the hands of state governments.

As a result, in the initial drought years of 2014 and 2015, the farming sector appeared to be in disarray. The government was able to press forward its reforms-oriented, ambitious schemes such as linking mandis to national e-markets, neem-coated urea, Pradhan Mantri Krishi Sinchai Yojana, Farmer Welfare earlier on ‘Agriculture 2022-Doubling Farmers Income’, PM Aqua Cards, Kisan Credit Cards in poultry and dairy sector, PM Krishi Sinchai Yojana, Farmer Producer Organisations, Ujjwala Cards, Kisan Credit Cards in poultry and dairy sector, PM Yojana complete rural electrification and Swachh Bharat Abhiyan while keeping active the Mahatma Gandhi National Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) and the National Food Security Act (NFFSA).

Most of the schemes including food subsidy, gas subsidy, pension for widows and other payments are increasingly being linked through Direct Benefit Transfer to the zero-balance Jan Dhan Yojana accounts. Women are kept at the centre of financial inclusion schemes. As against earlier years when social welfare schemes were targeted, the Modi government went for 'Sab ka saath, sab ka vikas'. Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced in 2016 the government’s programme of doubling farmers income by 2022-23. In April 2016, the government constituted a committee headed by Additional Secretary Ashok Dalwai to suggest a roadmap for doubling farmers income. While the National Sample Survey Office's study in 2012-13 had found an average farmer household's monthly income to be around Rs 640 per month, the Dalwai panel computed it to be an estimated Rs 8,058 per month in 2015-16 and recommend that national average incomes of farmers should grow at an estimated 10.4 per cent to double incomes in the next seven years.

At a conference organised by the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare earlier on ‘Agriculture 2022-Doubling Farmers Income’, Mr Modi shared his strategy. The steps enumerated by him were: how to decrease the cost of cultivation for farmers through use of soil health cards and neem-coated urea; increase the minimum support price through cost plus 50 per cent hike formula, reforming agri-markets and 2200 cards, Kisan Credit Cards in poultry and dairy sector, PM

Water Science Policy

Water is an essential element of life as well as the ecosystem, we live in. Without it, life cannot be imagined on this earth. Freshwater comprises only 2-3% of total amount of water found on this earth. Thus this resource has to be used judiciously. According to UN World Water Report 2018, the global demand for water is increasing at the rate of 1% per year and it will continue to grow in future as well. A major chunk of growth in demand for water will come from developing and emerging economies such as India and China. Global water cycle is getting disrupted due to climate change also. Other factors which have led to increase in water consumption include intensified agriculture and rapid urbanization. The report further states that water pollution has worsened in almost all rivers in Africa, Asia and Latin America. There are new demands on water for rising urbanization and rapidly expanding industrial activities. Water scarcity is a key challenge before the world and its mitigation is pivotal from environmental, economic and social sustainability point of view. As the water crisis deepens, the old solutions appear to be ineffective in tackling this global threat.

The major focus of Goal 6 of 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development is also about ensuring the availability and proper management of water resources. The World Water Report 2018 states that more than 2 billion people in the world lack access to safe drinking water and more than 4 billion people don't have access to safe sanitation. Thus access to safe drinking water is a challenge which needs effective and immediate redressal.

India too faces an imminent water crisis and it figures among the most water stressed countries in the world. More than a million people in India don’t have access to safe drinking water, and majority of others face regular water shortages. Many cities in India are currently also experiencing acute water shortages. According to the official estimates, India which has 18% of world’s population, has only 4% of total freshwater resources. More than half of India’s rivers are highly polluted whereas others are at levels that are considered unsafe by current global and national standards. The Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) has doubled the number of polluted rivers from 121 to 275 in the last five years. The situation with groundwater is equally alarming with scientific findings showing fast depletion of groundwater especially in the states of Punjab, Haryana and Delhi. A very recent NASA study which is published in nature in May 2018 only has also shown that India is one of the global hotspots where overuse of water resources has caused a serious decline in the availability of freshwater especially in North India. Scientists and environmentalists also predict

At the same time, we also come to know about our culture and traditions. Many games also make us aware about our society, environment and other spheres. It is a matter of concern, whether these sports are the point of extinction. It will not just be a loss of a game; it will be the loss of the spirit of competitive training that will exist only in the verses of the poems.

And we will be forever reduced to the null. Hence, we must keep our traditional sports alive. It isiscular that today schools, neighbourhoods and kindergartens are already aware about our health and promote these games. Through crowd sourcing we can create a very large archive of our traditional games. The social media is a great tool, outlining the way to play these games along with the mandatory rules and regulations. These games can be made so that our young generations for whom these games played in our streets are something to marvel about, can, see, analyse, try, and promote them. This is very an important achievement for India and it is also an acknowledgement as well as recognition of India’s growing leadership in the direction of tackling climate change.

This observation expressed centuries ago, that practicing yoga on a regular basis leads to imbibing beneficial attributes which stand by our side like relatives and friends. The practice of yoga leads to building up of courage, which always protects us like a father. The practice of yoga leads to generating a sense of forgiveness in the same manner as a mother has for her children and mental peace becomes our permanent friend. Bharthahari has said that with regular yoga exercise, truth becomes our brother, mercy becomes our sister, restraint for brother as family members and whose bed is the knowledge satiates our hunger. When so many attributes become one’s partner, then that yoga conquers all forms of fear. Once again, I appeal to all the citizens to adopt their legacy of yoga and create a healthy, happy and harmonious nation. My dear countrymen, today is the 27th of May, the death anniversary of the First Prime Minister of India, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru ji. I render my pranam to Pandit ji. Memories of this month are also linked with the month of May 1857, when Indians had displayed their strength against the British in different parts of the country, our youth and farmers demonstrated their bravery whilst standing up against the British. It is indeed sad that we kept on calling the events of 1857 only as a rebellion or soldiers’ mutiny for a very long time.

In fact, May 1857 was not only evaluated as a minor historical incident but was also an attempt to dent our self-respect. It was Veer Savarkar who boldly expropriated by writing that whatever happened in 1857 was not a revolt but was indeed the First War of Independence. Savarkaralong with his band of brave hearts celebrated the 50thanniversary of the First War of Independence with great fanfare at India house in London. It is also an amazing coincidence that the month which witnessed the First Struggle for Independence was the month in which Veer Savarkar jji was born. Savarkar jji’s personality was full of special qualities; he was a worshipper of both weapons or Shastra and Knowledge or shastras.

Generally Veer Savarkar is renowned for his bravery and his struggle against the British Raj. But besides these sterling qualities, he was also a striking poet and a social reformer who always emphasized on goodwill and unity. A wonderful account about Savarkar jji has been given by our dear honorable Atal Bihari Vajpayee Ji. Atal ji had said - Savarkar jji means brilliance, Savarkar jji means sacrifice, Savarkar jji means penance, Savarkar jji means substance, Savarkar jji means logic, Savarkar jji means youth, Savarkar jji means an arrow, and Savarkar jji means a Sword! Behold! What an accurate depiction of Savarkar by Atal ji! Savarkar marched along with both poetry and revolution. Besides being a sensitive poet, he was also a courageous revolutionary. My dear brothers and sisters, I was watching a story on TV about our underprivileged daughters of certain slums in Sikar, Rajasthan. Our daughters, who were forced to sift through garbage and beg from home to home in order to earn a living, learned new skills by learning sewing and stitching clothes to cover the minimum needs. This is an example where the daughters are stitching ordinary to good clothes for themselves and other families. Along with this, they are undergoing a training course in skill development.

These daughters have become self-reliant today and are living their lives with respect and have become a strong support to their families. I wish all these daughters, with hope and faith to have a very bright future. They have demonstrated that if you have the desire to do something and if you are determined towards that goal then success can be achieved despite all odds! And this is not only about Sikar, but in every corner of India, you will see Veer Savarkar’s story. If you observe in your neighbourhood, then you will witness for yourselves how people overcome the difficulties in their lives!

You must have realized that again this month we are going to shop, and enjoy tea there, a discussion with some of the customers automatically ensues. These discussions are also political and social in nature, can be about movies, sports and sportspersons etc. Hence, this month, we will discuss the problems of the country – any problem with probable solutions are discussed at length – but only the day-to-day problems and their solutions remain limited to such animated discussions only. But there are some people who go ahead with their work, to bring about a change through their hard work and dedication; they make it a reality. This is the story of D. Prakash Rao, living in the slums of Cuttack, Orissa, who gave up everything in order to adopt and realize the dreams of others. Just yesterday I’ve had the good fortune of meeting D. Prakash Rao.

Shirman D. Prakash Rao has been a tea vendor in the city of Cuttack for the past five decades. A meagre tea vendor, today you will be surprised to know that the lives of more than 70 children are illuminated through education due to his efforts. He has opened a school named “Asa Ashvagana”, spending 50% of his income for children living in slums and hutments. He ensures education, health and meals for all the children coming to this school. I congratulate D. Prakash Rao for his hard work, his perserverance and for providing a new direction to the lives of those poor children attending his school. He has banished the darkness from their lives. Who amongst us does not know the Asha Ashvagana, spending 50% of his income for children living in slums and hutments. He ensures education, health and meals for all the children coming to this school.

grain haats; reducing post-
harvest wastages through proper storage, logistics, food processing, and implementing Operation Greens TOP (tomatoes, onions and potatoes); and to provide supplementary income to farmers through diversification into blue, organic, sweet revolution. Value addition and food processing has also become a recent government priority.

While reinforcing the concept of “per drop, more crop”, Mr. Modi said the government was focussing on completing irrigation projects to help farmers reduce their cost of production. The plan is to complete 99 irrigation projects on time for which the government has made a provision for additional Rs.80,000 crore.

Because of the soil health card, the usage of chemical fertilizers had decreased by 6-10 per cent, while production had gone up by 5-6 per cent.

The budgetary allocation to the sector has been enhanced almost 75 per cent to more than Rs. 16966 crore in last three years. In addition two corpus funds of Rs. 5,000 crore for micro irrigation and Rs. 10,681 crore for the Dairy and Animal Commerce and Infrastructure Fund (DICDF) have been created for the years 2017-18.

Apart from this, the Fishery and Aquaculture Infrastructure Development Fund and Animal Husbandry Infrastructure Development Fund amounting to Rs. 10,000 crore and an agriculture market development fund amounting to Rs. 20,000 crore have been announced in the budget 2018-19.

The government has increased the amount of institutional loan available to farmers from Rs 8 lakh crore to Rs 11 lakh crore in the past three years. Under the New Gram Haat project, farmers will be connected to markets with 2200 ‘Gramin Haats’ getting a proper infrastructure upgrade. Agriculture Produce Marketing Committees and e-Nam will be integrated with it. It must be noted that this with half of the country’s population dependent on agriculture and allied activities in rural India, India’s economy is closely linked to the farm sector and with 60 per cent of the agriculture being rain-fed, the growth in the sector is highly dependent on monsoon.

In the first two years of its rule in 2014-15, the government was faced with deficient monsoon and lowered kharif output. But by the fourth year, in 2017-18, the southwest monsoon normalised, the foodgrain production levels rose dramatically and the 2nd advance estimate of output of major crops for 2017-18 released recently foreshadowed production to be 279.51 million tonnes, which is a record. Of this wheat output is likely to be 98.61 million tonnes and rice is expected to be 111.52 million tonnes. The production of coarse cereals at 44.87 million tonnes and that of pulses at 24.51 million tonnes is also the highest ever. Farm and allied sector growth was stagnant at 3.2 or lower per cent from 1991-92 to 2013-14 is estimated to be 4.1 per cent for 2016-17. The biggest success of the Modi government in the farm sector in the last two years has been the dramatic rise in the production of pulses. When the BJP-led National Democratic Alliance (NDA) government took over from the Congress-led United Progressive Alliance (UPA) in 2014, the output of pulses was 19.25 million tonnes. In the previous year (2012-13) it was 17.45 million tonnes when prices of ur, chan and moong had touched Rs 180 to Rs 200 per kilogram triggering large-scale imports. The Modi government constituted a Mission for Pulses and created a buffer stock which was steadily built up. From 1.51 million tonnes in 2017-18, with a record production, the government lifted the export ban and introduced quantitative restriction on imports to augment domestic supplies. It is now set out to achieve a similar strategy in edible pulses, the large-scale import of which is a drag on the foreign exchange.

In the Budget 2018, Finance Minister Arun Jaitley proposed to increase the Minimum Support Price (MSP) for forthcoming kharif crop to one-and-a-half times the production cost to enable farmers to pay off loans and have additional income in hand.

Several state governments including Maharashtra, Uttar Pradesh, Punjab, Rajasthan, Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, have announced limited loan waivers for small and marginal farmers. In addition, Madhya Pradesh government has launched a scheme, wherein the differential between the price paid to farmers and the MSP is paid up. The Central Government too intervenes in the market when prices of perishables fall in the market to buy the surplus produce to farmers.

Be that as it may, timely announcement of income-oriented minimum support price to women from Below Poverty Line Populations. So far 3.73 crore new connections have been given of which 44 per cent were scheduled to Caste Schedule C. The Prime Minister Arun Jaitley proposed to increase the Minimum Support Price for 226.73 lakh people insured with premium of Rs 12 per annum and Mission Indradhanush.

As in agriculture, the rural development expenditure was enhanced by nearly 62 per cent from Rs 59630 in 2013-14 to Rs 96089 in 2016-17 for “poverty-free good ranchan parks”. In 2017-18, the Ministry targets an expenditure of Rs 1,05,448 crore.

Between 2014 and 2017, about 813.76 crore person days employment were generated under Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Yojana, Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana and MNREGA. By 2018, 90,000 loan cases will be completed under PM Ayushman Yojana while 2.41 crore households have been targeted for assistance. Under Ayushman Yojana, 32,14,508 houses were constructed during 2016-17. MNREGA allocation raised from Rs 33,000 crore in 2013-14 to Rs 55,000 crore in 2018-19. Women participation was highest at 56 per cent in 2016-17. Amongst the government’s strongest achievements in the rural sector are ensuring smoke-free cooking for rural women under Ujjwala Yojana and providing 3.8 crore poor women LPG connections. The target is 8 crore.

Complete rural electrification in villages is another highlight. The Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana boasts of ensuring rural roads connectivity from 56 per cent in 2014 to 82 per cent now. The Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana has constructed 14,36,000 km of road with construction has gone up from 69 km per day in 2013-14 to 134 km per day. Under Atal Pension Yojana for availing funds. The rural sanitary programme reflects the true spirit of people’s participation. As a programme it has been given high priority and since October 2014, 7.1 crore households toilets have been completed. According to Rural Development Ministry officials, this means that rural sanitation coverage in India has more than doubled from 30 per cent in 2014 to over 83 per cent now.

Significantly, all the villages on the banks of river Ganges have been made Open Defecation Free under the Namami Gange Programme.
