DIGITALIZATION: KEY TO REVITALIZE GROWTH AND EMPLOYMENT

Dr. S.P. Sharma & Ms. Megha Kaul

Digitalization refers to the integration of digital technology into daily living establishing relationship between various segments of the society ranging from producers, distributors, retailers, workers and consumers. It is expected to have significant impact on economy in terms of increased speed of economic activities, enhanced efficiencies and better growth prospects. Cross country experiences show that spillovers of digitalization have been witnessed with positive outcomes across the economic segments such as agriculture, industry, infrastructure, mining, manufacturing, construction, trade and finance. With the enhanced production possibility frontiers and increased economies of scale, digitalization creates an opportunity for entrepreneurs to expand workforce and to produce more.

Digital Revolution in India

The Indian economy has been witnessing technological transformation as the adoption of technology has increased remarkably in the recent times. The digitalization would give a significant boost to rural connectivity and enhanced standards of living of the people in the coming times. Increased digitisation is expected to have a widespread economic, social as well as sustainable development impact on the economy.

According to a report by World Bank, 10% increase in mobile and broadband penetration increases the per capita GDP by 0.81% and 1.38% respectively in the developing countries. Thus, the reforms in digitalization are expected to result in digital revolution in the economy and to spur growth and employment in the coming times.

Digital Economy, jobs and economic growth

The Indian economy is the fastest moving emerging economy in the world economic systems. The share of India in world’s GDP has been increasing over the time. According to the 2018 Global Multidimensional Poverty Index (MPI) of United Nations, over 270 million people have moved out of poverty in India. Going ahead, it becomes imperative to provide state-of-the-art facilities to the rising population to improve their standards of living and promote all inclusive growth in the economy. To support a growing population, technology plays a major role in increasing productivity, reducing losses and improving efficiency across various sectors of the economy viz. Agriculture and Allied Activities, Industry and Services. It is expected that with the growth of Digitalization, the efficiency and efficacy of economic activities would be improved significantly and the enhanced speed of economic activity has potential to create additional jobs every year in the various areas of Indian economy. The enhanced economic activity has potential to push the economic growth trajectory by at least 2 percentage points in the next five years.

Agriculture and Allied Activities

The share of agriculture sector in the GDP has declined from about 50% in the early 1950s to around 17% in 2017-18. However, the dependence on agriculture as a source of livelihood is as high as 42%. Thus, there is a need to boost the growth of agriculture sector so as to create ample employment opportunities for the workforce engaged in it. Digitalization can play a major role in addressing the challenge of food wastage in the sector for enhancing productivity and higher economies of scale. Digitalization can play an important role in reducing losses with improved supply chain through research in Nano technology. This would facilitate economic activity, as premium which can be one time or periodical payment depending upon the terms and conditions of insurance undertaken. In lieu of this premium the insurance company agrees to make certain payment to the client or bear the costs of a claim in case of an unforeseen event, defined in the policy.

Insurance, in fact, is a model of sharing of risks and financial losses. Losses of few people are divided among large number of people. So all of those who have bought insurance would share the loss of few who have actually incurred the loss.

Insurance Business in India

Compared with global standards, reach of insurance is considered to be low in our country. However more and more people are now realising the importance of insurance for self and family. Many organizations also offer insurance coverage to their employees. Demographic factors like growing middle class, young insurable population, organizational initiatives and government participation are driving the insurance penetration.

CAREERS IN INSURANCE INDUSTRY

The family may be affected in many ways. There are emotional upheavals and the family may have lost the comfort of a regular income, needed to support the family which was earned by the deceased person. Similarly, when a person is injured resulting in temporary or permanent disability, the financial loss, likely to occur, could be on account of medical expenditure and loss of earning due to disability. When it comes to property, movable or unmovable the financial loss can be assumed in terms of money required to repair, rebuild the asset or buying a new one. In all the above cases insurance is a big support and this supporting role encourages people to take insurance policies. Insurance is defined as a special contract between the insurance company, called insurer and the person or entity, known as insured/client , opting for the insurance. Insurance is a mechanism by which the affected party is able to get a compensation for the financial loss suffered by her as a result of unexpected or unforeseen incidents. Under an agreement of insurance, the client is required to pay insurance fee/charges to the insurance company. This fee/charge in the insurance vocabulary is known as premium which can be one time or periodical payment depending upon the terms and conditions of insurance undertaken. In lieu of this premium the insurance company agrees to make certain payment to the client or bear the costs of a claim in case of an unforeseen event, defined in the policy.

CAREERS IN INSURANCE

Insurance has broadly two segments—Life insurance and non-life insurance which is also termed as general insurance. Life insurance provides coverage to the life of individuals. Life Insurance Corporation of India, incorporated in 1956, is the only government company in this sector. It has about 115 Divisional and 3700 other offices in the country. Under general insurance the major categories are:

- Health Insurance
- Travel Insurance
- Motor/Vehicle Insurance
- Household Insurance
- Fire Insurance
- Marine Insurance
- Crop Insurance
- General Insurance
- Health Insurance
- Motor Insurance
- Life Insurance
- Fire Insurance
- Marine Insurance
- Crop Insurance
- General Insurance

Insurance is also provided for export, engineering goods etc. The following are non-life insurance companies promoted by the Government of India:

- National Insurance Company Limited
- United India Insurance Company Limited
- New India Assurance Company Limited
- General Insurance Corporation of India
- New India Assurance Company Limited

The following are non-life insurance companies:

- General Insurance Corporation of India
- New India Assurance Company Limited
- United India Insurance Company Limited
- General Insurance Corporation of India

All the above five companies advertise for the requirement of manpower in the following positions:

- Assistant Administrative Office (AAO): This is a position similar to that of probationary officer in public sector banks. While for all public sector banks the vacancies are pooled and a common selection test is held, AAOs are recruited by individual companies as per the employment notice issued by them.

- Graduates from all disciplines are eligible to apply for the position of AAO. The selection process divides into three stages, first being the preliminary examination. Containing questions of reasoning ability, quantitative aptitude, English language (grammar, vocabulary, comprehension),

-Merit list for interview is prepared based on score in main examination only.

- Assistant: The position of Assistant is a clerical position and usually vacancies for them are more than that of AAOs. Here also all graduates are eligible. While AAOs are selected on all India basis and can be posted anywhere within the country, applicants for assistants’ positions have to indicate the state/union territory for which they are applying. Upon selection they get their posting accordingly.

- Assistants who perform well may get promoted to officers cadre after putting in required number of years, subject to availability of vacancies.

- Specialist positions: There are many specialists position in insurance companies. The number is much less when compared with generalist positions. Since specific qualifications are required lesser applicants and the competition takes place accordingly. The following are the most common specialists positions in insurance companies.

- Actuary: Graduates who have passed the required papers in the examination conducted by Indian Institute of Actuaries, United Kingdom are eligible to apply for this position. Law Officer: A degree in law and being registered for practicing law, by Bar Council of India is the common requirement for the position of Law officer in insurance companies. They should have pursued Law either after your graduation or 5 years integrated after 12th.

- Information technology officer: Insurance companies are adopting Information Technology in a big way and to strengthen their related infrastructure need Information technology officers. To apply the candidate should at least be a graduate in Engineering in Information Technology/Computer Science/ Electronics. Those qualified as Master of Computer Applications (MCA) or Master of Computer Science (M.Sc. Computer Science) are also considered eligible.

- Human Resources officer: A postgraduate Degree or Diploma in Management with specialization in Human Resource Management or a similar qualification is required for this position. In some cases candidates with graduation in Accountancy and Office Work are also considered eligible.

- Official Language officer: All central government departments and public sector undertakings need to have Official Language officers as prescribed in relevant rules. This is applicable for the above insurance companies also. Therefore AAOs, AAOs in English/Hindi with Hindi/English at graduation level are considered. Sometimes Official Language officers are required in states where English and Hindi at graduation level are also allowed to apply. However, in such cases a test of translation may be required/desirable.

- Human Resource vacancies also exist in finance function for which qualifications like MBA (Finance), Chartered accountant are considered. For specialists positions candidate has to appear in an additional test of professional/subject knowledge. For example the one who has applied for the position of HR officer will have to appear in the test of Human Resource Management.

- Jobs in private sector insurance companies: There are many private companies in life and non-life insurance business. These companies generally follow a single or standardized model for recruitment as government insurance companies. Sometimes these private companies go for campus placement for students who have completed their courses. Sometimes they also go for specialised positions in actuarial science, marketing, law etc. The recruitment can be checked with their websites.

- Working as an Insurance Agent: Insurance is a matter of solicitation and most of the insurance policies are mobilised on the basis of personal endorsement by accredited by insurance companies. Those who are at least 18 years of age or over and 18 years of age may opt to become an insurance agent after obtaining the required qualification. In many cases the insurance company arrange classroom training for agency force. The candidate who has appeared in the certification test prescribed by the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) is eligible to apply for agency. The certification has to be renewed after an interval of 3 years. For this the one who is required to attend refresher training and then pass the required test.

- Courses related to Insurance: At few institutes you may find an undergraduate course like B.Com (Insurance) or BBA (Insurance). At postgraduate level you have the opportunity to pursue a course in Insurance Management (MBA/Postgraduate Diploma in Management) with insurance. National Law Schools and MBA in Insurance & Risk Management are a few of insurance related courses and programmes. These are just few examples.

- Indian Institute of Insurance (I.I.I.): This is a national level Institute and has branches all over the country. It conducts courses like PG Diploma in Marketing, PG Diploma in Investment & Risk Management, PG Diploma in General Insurance Management and PG Diploma in Analytics & Actuarial Science.

- Insurance Institute of India: Insurance Institute of India(III) at Mumbai is the pioneer in insurance education in the country. It conducts courses like PG Diploma in Marketing, PG Diploma in Actuarial Science, PG Diploma in Life Insurance, Part Time Diploma in Actuarial Science, PG Diploma in Risk Management.

- National Insurance Academy at Pune offers Postgraduate Diploma in Management with emphasis on Insurance. Brokers and brokers online learning course is also available with the academy.

- Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India: (IRDAI) is headquartered at Hyderabad, is the regulator of insurance business in the country. It is equal to RBI for banks and SEBI for stock markets. (IRDAI) also has opening for insurance professionals, Short-term training programmes for experienced candidates. Working here is considered to be highly prestigious.

- One may also get associated with insurance industry as a loss surveyor by obtaining certification from one of the recognised associations like American Training Group, USA. (The author is a career counsellor based in Mumbai Email: v2j25@yahoo.in) Views expressed are personal.

Digitalization is the new game changer and is set to become the new normal as it has immense potential to achieve transformational changes in every section of the society and promote all-inclusive growth and development in the economy. The value addition to each of the sectors is expected to generate tremendous economic benefits. The enhanced economic activity has potential to push the economic growth trajectory by at least 2 percentage points in the next five years. Going ahead, there is a need to improve the digital literacy in the country to make people digitally competitive. Digitalization should find its way in the school curriculum right from the early stages. The technology-based services should be made in language that is understandable to the user.

The time is most opportune for India to embrace technological developments and translate them into opportunities for creation of millions of employment opportunities. There is a transition in the job landscape in the economy from conventional jobs to employment of new engines of job creation. The share of agriculture sector in employment creation has declined while that of industry and services is increasing rapidly. There is a need for massive skilling and re-skilling of workforce so as to make them job-ready. The industry needs to focus on re-designing their business models against the backdrop of growing technological development and also to drive the re-skilling of existing workforce. Going ahead, we look forward to further reform measures of the government to promote digitalization and participation of all the stakeholders for the creation of massive employment opportunities for the growing workforce in the country.
