‘When it is obvious that goals cannot be reached, don’t adjust the goals, adjust the action steps.’—Confucius

Speak about examination and often what a student spontaneously plunges into is the imbroglio of anxieties, stress and confusion. Have you ever imagined why some students get so much stressed and disturbed when they are to appear in an examination? In fact, the examination stress is caused due to apprehension and lack of confidence of not performing well in time for the examination. But it has its firm roots in the lack of preparation and absence of chalking out suitable planning and absence of confidence of not performing due to apprehension and lack of confidence of not performing well in time for the examination.

The fear of examination, generally called the ‘examination phobia’, not only adversely affects the psychological condition of an examinee but also his academic performance and future career. However, the psychoanalysts across the world now have started believing that stress, to some extent, is not always pernicious for students; rather it works as a motivation factor that keeps on preventing them from deviation and procrastination. We need to learn following techniques to keep stress under control.

CONSISTENT HARD WORK HAS NO SUBSTITUTE

Consistent hard work has no substitute for accomplishing any task. Passing an examination with marks and results expected is not at all different from this truth. Who can deny that hard work works like a magic wand in transforming the status of a student? It bears the miraculous power of converting poor-achievers into highly brilliant students. Diligence hone the inherent talent and unharnessed potential of a student and enables him or her to become confident to face the examination.

The great Chinese teacher and philosopher Confucius had once said, “Our greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.” Despite failures galore we must keep on studying sincerely and labouring hard for achieving what we have dreamed.

Thoroughly and intensively study the subjects of syllabi and practise more consistenly to retain the lessons. This ends up calming and strengthening us to cope up with the pressures of examination, if any.

SPEAKING TO PARENTS AND SEEKING THEIR GUIDANCE MAY PROVE TO BE MAGIC

Examination stress is the most common phenomenon among students and in this situation it is good to speak about your problems to your parents. Better would it also be if students talk openly about the problems with someone whom they confide in and trust most. Sharing the problems this way helps a lot to reduce the level of stresses.

The sympathetic and caring attitude of the parents and close friends may prove to be very beneficial to ease the stress which is generally the by-products of unfounded fear and misconception.

The teachers too may play vital role in allaying the fears and phobia of examination. They may guide and counsel their students to boost their confidence to substantially dispel the fear or phobia.

ASK YOURSELF WHAT YOU STRESSED

It is said prevention is better than cure. Identifying the problem and asking the questions, ‘What is it that you are stressed about?’, ‘What have you done up to now to solve your problem?’ or ‘What are your life goals?’, can dispel the fear or phobia.

English rendering of PM’s address in 53rd episode of Mann Ki Baat on 24.02.2019

M’dear countrymen, Namaskar. I begin ‘Mann Ki Baat’ today with a heavy heart. 10 days ago, Mother India had to bear the loss of many of her valiant sons. These brave hearts made the supreme sacrifice in securing the peace of all. They had toiled relentlessly, day or night. As a consequence of the Pulwama terror attack and the sacrifice of the brave jawsan, people across the country are agonized and enraged. All over the country, there is a deluge of violent and enraged. All people across the country are sacrifice of the brave jawsan, As a consequence of the toiled relentlessly, day or night. peacefully, these brave sons countrymen could sleep ensure that their fellow five crore Indians. In order to the lives of a hundred & twenty supreme sacrifice in securing These brave hearts made the many of her valiant sons. India had to bear the loss of heart. 10 days ago, Mother of Mann Ki Baat on 24.02.2019

A-common denominator of the terrorizing singes your being and mine on members. The outrage that strong feelings of sympathy for every citizen of the world, which sincerely believe in humanity. I respectfully bow to collective inner psyche’ of the martyrs & their family members. The outrage that singes your being and mine on account of the terrorizing violence replicates itself in the all the brave sons of the country, who laid down their lives, protecting the honour of their motherland, India. This martyrdom will keep inspiring us relentlessly to uproot the very base of terrorism; it will fortify our resolve. We shall have to take up this challenge facing our country, forgetting all barriers of casteism, communalism, regionalism and other difference, so that, our steps against terror are firmer, stronger and more decisive. Our armed forces have consistently displayed unparalleled courage and valour. On the one hand, they have displayed exemplary capabilities in restoring peace; on the other, they have retaliated in equal measure, in a language the attackers understand. You must have seen how within a handful of hours of the attack, retaliative action was accomplished. The Army has resolved to wipe out terrorists and their harbingers. The martyrdom of these brave soldiers brought to the fore, through the media, touching, inspiring stories of their kin, which give hope and strength to the entire country. The fortitude displayed by Ram Niranjani, father of Martyr Ratan Thakur of Bhagalpur, Bihar, in this moment of tribulation is truly inspiring. He has expressed the wish of sending his second son too, to take on the enemy, if need be, he himself would go and fight. The country salutes the indomitable courage of Meenaj, wife of Martyr Prasanna Sahu of Jagatsinghpur, Odisha. She has vowed to send her only son to join the CRPF. When the mortal remains of Martyr Vijay Soren, draped in the tricolor reached Gumla, Jharkhand, his innocent son uttered that he too would join the armed forces. The mettle of this innocent lad is a representative sample of the feelings of each & every child of the Nation today. Similar sentiments are coming to the fore in the households of our brave heart martyrs. No martyr, no family is an exception to that. Whether it be the family of Martyr Vijay Mourya of Devariya, the parents of Martyr Tilakraj of Kangra or the six year old son of Martyr Hemraj of Kodarma, the family of martyrs is full of inspiration. I urge the young generation to know and understand the sentiments of these families. To understand the virtues of patriotism, sacrifice and perseverance, I urge them to go to historical events. These are but living examples before your eyes… these very examples are a source of inspiration for the future of a rising & glowing India. My dear countrymen, the rather long wait after Independence for a War Memorial is about to be over. It is natural for our countrymen to be curious about it. On the occasion of the 53rd episode of Mann Ki Baat, I want to share with you some interesting facts about the National War Memorial used to surprise me, pain me… a Memorial that would house the valour saga of our brave soldiers who risked their lives to guard their nation’s security. I took a resolve that the country must have such a Memorial. We decided to erect the National War Memorial and I am contented to see it attaining completion in so little a time. Tomorrow, that is on the 25th of February, crores of we Indians will be curious about it. On the other, they have retaliated in equal measure, in a language the attackers understand. NOTE : There will be negative marking of 01(one) mark for each wrong answer and 00 (zero) mark for each question not attempted.

6. SELECTION PROCEDURES :
(i) Candidates will be shortlisted for Tier-I Computer Based Examination based on the percentage of marks in Essential Qualification as indicated by them during online application/registration. Candidates will be shortlisted in the ratio of 1:5, i.e. 50 candidates for every vacancy, subject to availability of sufficient number of eligible candidates. Candidates will be shortlisted by applying suitable cut off in the percentage of marks in Essential Qualification. The number of candidates shortlisted may be slightly more or less due to the criteria of applying cut off in multiples of two. The criteria followed in short listing candidates for Tier-I Computer Based Examination will be final. No appeal or representation will be entertained against such short listing.

Note-I : Where the result of the candidate is indicated in the consolidated Final Year Mark Sheet in CGPA without indicating the corresponding percentage of marks, such candidate, during the online application/registration, is required to carefully calculate and mention the correct corresponding percentage by following the formula/mode, if any, indicated therein. In all other cases, the conversion formula of CGPA (as indicated in the Final Year Mark Sheet) multiplied by (x) 9.5 will be applicable to arrive at corresponding percentage. Where percentage of marks is clearly mentioned in the consolidated Final Year Mark Sheet, the candidate is required to mention such exact percentage during the online application/registration.

Note-II : The information furnished by the candidates during online application/registration will be verified with reference to their original documents subsequently. During such verification of documents, it is found that any information furnished in the application in the application, his/her candidature will be cancelled/rejected forthwith. No appeal or representation against such cancellation/rejection of candidature will be entertained. The candidates should ensure that they have furnished correct information during the online application/registration.

(ii) The candidates will be arranged in order of merit in each category based on their performance in the Tier-I Computer Based Examination. Further shortlisting of candidates to be called for Tier-II will subsequently be made by adopting suitable ratio for each vacancy. The National Technical Research Organisation will have the full discretion to fix separate minimum qualifying marks, if required, in Tier-I or Tier-II or both. In case two or more candidates secure same marks, the tie will be resolved by the following procedure:-

(a) On the basis of date of birth with the older candidate being placed higher in merit.

(b) Alphabetical order of names (as mentioned during online application/registration) in the list of eligible candidates, if the date of birth is also the same.

(iii) In case of non-availability of sufficient number of candidates to fill the reserved vacancies in a particular subject/stream such vacancies may be offered to candidates belonging to same reserved category in the other subject/stream.

(iv) More selection will not be entertained and an eligible candidate whose selection is declared medically FIT to join the post. Candidates should note that for the purpose of Medical Fitness for the said post, ‘Color Vision Deficiency’ is considered as a reason for being medically FIT for appointment.

7. CENTRE OF EXAMINATION :
The Tier-I Computer Based Examination is tentatively scheduled to be conducted at the following examination centres. Each candidate has to choose any one examination centre in order of preference. Efforts will be made to accommodate the candidate’s choice of preference in allocating examination centre. However, the National Technical Research Organisation reserves the right to add/delete any examination centre and/or modify the examination centre depending upon the number of applicants and availability of the Centres, etc. No request for change of examination centre or date of examination will be entertained.

The above is only an indicative list. Definitely there are more colleges and universities in India offering courses in forestry/related subjects.

Most of the institutes/universities have a general course in forestry. However some of these offer courses with specialization in particular branches in forestry. For example some of the areas of specialization are agroforestry environment management, forest ecology, forest inventory, medicinal & aromatic plants, wood science & technology, watershed management, silviculture, sustainable development, forest genetics, forest biotechnology & tree improvement, forest products & utilization etc.

While some universities take candidates selected through the entrance examinations conducted by Indian Council for Agricultural Research, others have their own entrance examinations for postgraduate courses. Details of which can be checked with respective websites.

Usually you may be taught at many overseas institutions also such as University of Forestry, Sofia Bulgaria; Beijing Forestry University, China; Moso State Forestry University in China; Institute of Forestry & Environment Studies, Forestry University of British Columbia and others.

M.F. (Forestry) course covers inputs in management to a certain extent, a full-fledged managerial course in Forest Management. That also is pursued. Indian Institute of Forest Management at Bhopal is a very well-known for its Postgraduate Diploma in Forest Management equivalent to MBA. It has also launched Postgraduate Diploma in Sustainability Management. IIFM is recognised as research centre for pursuing doctoral research of the Forest Research Institute, Dehradun. Some of the organizations which have recruited candidates from this reputed institute are- The Nature Conservancy, Water Watch, Wildlife United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), Gramene Foundation India The Energy and Resource Institute, Patagonia, Narayani Social Foundation, Swades Foundation, Technoserve, Periyar Tiger Reserve, Mysore, Jaipur Rugs, Jaihind Livelihoods Support Organization, etc.

Those holding a postgraduate qualification in management, business management or specialisation in Agri - Business, Rural Management, Rural Development may also find managerial careers in a development related field.

Jobs & Careers

There are different routes to approach forestry as a career. The academic route is more popular. Although about different opportunities available may be of help.

Forest Guard: To become a forest guard one should have passed 10th standard. Requisite training is made at state level. For this position no special qualification in forestry or related subjects is required. Usually vacancies announced are in large numbers but so is the number of candidates as benchmark qualification is not high.

International organizations:

Forestry is a globally important issue and as such offers international career opportunities also. Those interested may explore opportunities to work with organizations like Food & Agriculture Organization (FAO), The International Tropical Timber Organization, Centre for International Forestry Research, Indonesia, Nature Conservancy, Conservation of Nature, Switzerland, Bioversity, Italy; International Union of Forest Research Organizations, Austria; World Agroforestry Centre, Kenya and many others.

You can see forestry offers all forms of career opportunities-scientific, administrative, technical, and managerial. The other way to look at forestry careers may be in terms of the environmental, developmental and management needs. Forestry needs are vast, therefore, course requirements and way of approaching these careers may differ, as has been explained in this article.

Wildlife Sanctuaries, Paper Processing Industries, Microfinance organizations, conservation bodies, packed food manufacturing companies, wood product companies, pharmaceutical companies in public and private sector offer job opportunities to those educated in forestry.

Research and Career Success:

A career in forestry can be both physically and mentally demanding, depending on the work and the role you’ve to play. You should, in general, have a healthy lifestyle to cope with the nature and outdoors. You’ll have to be curious with an aptitude for conservation of natural resources. Those desirous of a dynamic career will do well to become learning and research oriented.

reason of worries is the first step in the direction of taming the last stress. Once the reason of worries is identified then we can overcome them fast.
For some students, lack of completion of syllabus also poses a great problem while for others lack of retention power of lessons learnt seems to be an Achilles' Heel. Some students do suffer from the problem of understanding the various subjective and objective type questions face examination. Problems need to be fixed before solving them and providing them with a solution from adversely affecting the mental condition of the students. An honest assessment of one’s strength to the plan is not only sufficient but it is also necessary. Do your best to improve the areas which you find difficult. This will not only help the professionals and experts. Faster, you master these areas of lacunae the sooner you will be able to face the fears and finally become confident and courageous.

PLAN - MUST, MAKE IT AND STICK TO IT ROYALITICALLY
Chalking our suitable plans is a sine qua non of what you want to achieve in your life. A plan is a well-performed and well-lived life. But majority of students fail to plan their future. Did you know how many of the subjects they need to accommodate? If you can accommodate, then also means mapping out and visualizing the contours of responsibilities to be taken over a certain period of time.
Planning late is also not good for examination purpose. In this case students are left with awkward and for examination purpose because certain period.
PRIORITIZE SUBJECTS
Have you ever realized that students get considerably stressed when they find the time available for examination preparation is relatively shorter than the time which they need to master the subjects? In this situation, it becomes virtually difficult to go through every chapter of a particular subject. This is where the students have to map out the syllabi into the chapters with very high and low weightage. The chapters may also be classified on the parameter of their being simple, easily comprehensible and hard to master.
Besides, we also need to identify the easiest and the toughest subjects so that we can rationalize the time distribution accordingly for their preparation. The tougher subjects may be assigned relatively more time in comparison with easier ones.

DO NOT PANIC -
The whole world seems to have been shattered in view of recent Nature calamities. It seems like we are not enjoying and interesting worth living the life. But panic response does not pay. Accepting and dealing with the problem of life, students need to be very rational and must stay stoic and firm.
Panicking would even aggravate the situation. So whenever you find yourself in the whirlpool of mental and performance-induced worries-induced frustration - and stress control becomes very less. What we learn by rote does not help much in the long run because its retention period is very less. What we learn by rote evaporates very soon especially, when students need it most. And there are thousands of questions and formulae are worth-porating but it must not be done without keeping some clues and tips in the back of our minds.
It is always advantageous to understand the processes and know the particular type theory functions. Give time to understand the various concepts of the subject. Not all understanding is considered as the perfect way to master a subject.

ASSESS YOURSELF AND SET REALISTIC GOALS
Everyone dreams to achieve something or the other or to become someone or the other. But what one dreams to achieve must also be based upon the real assessment of one’s capability and resources available for realizing it. Only when we do not set our goals realistically then worries arise. As stress starts rearing its ugly head which leads to frustration and depression.
That is why the first task is to identify yourself, know who you are and honestly assess your strengths, weaknesses and resources. On the basis of these strength and weaknesses we need to set goals which lands them in trouble. A plan which is sure to be accomplished with the help from the professionals and experts. Faster, you master these areas of lacunae the sooner you will be able to face the fears and finally become confident and courageous.

SOLVING THE PROBLEMS
Solving the problems in the exercises of all the chapters can avoid students from being vulnerable to unwanted tension and pressures. SOLVING THE PROBLEMS
Solving the problems in the exercises of all the chapters can avoid students from being vulnerable to unwanted tension and pressures. It requires regular practice and work out and good nourishing diets.
What we eat substantially affects our physical health and mental health condition. For this, one must avoid items of fast or junk food as they badly affect the digestion and immunity power of the body. Normally including green and leafy vegetables, fish and fruits in the diet goes on without much stress. A student of balanced diet keeps the students away from variety of ailments and finally free from stress. It is a very dangerous condition.

Psychologists across the world have now established that talking about the sharing of the problems, whether academic or personal, with the friends and family members can control the unwanted tensions and pressures. However, one must decide very judiciously how much time a student must spend with friends for each study schedule must get disturbed.

gallery whose walls are inscribed with soldiers’ tales of valour. This is followed by the Tyre of Memory which stands as a memorial to the sacrifice of our soldiers. This bears the names of those soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice, fighting for that same gold. Following that is the Rakshak Chakra which depicts the spirit of security. This circle houses a row of dense trees. These might be new or might be, and send a reassuring message to the country’s citizens that our soldiers vigilantly guard borders round the clock and that they, the citizens are safe. If you take a holistic view, the National Soldiers’ Memorial is sure to turn out to be a sacred site, where people will throng, to get information on our great martyrs, to express their gratitude, to conduct further research, to find an example than what you know you had to resort to such a cowardly operation? Because even the British who raised a mighty empire used to be terrified of the. Bhagwan Birsan Munda took on the might of the guns & cannons of the British, using traditional bows and arrows, to shake them apart. The fact is, when people are blessed with exemplary leadership, the might of arms pales in comparison to the collective will power of the people. Bhagwan Birsan Munda not only waged a struggle against the British, but also actively fought for the social & economic rights of the tribal folk. And he accomplished all this in his relatively short life. We need to shine sunshine peep into the darkest lives of the deprived and the oppressed. Bhagwan Birsan Munda sacrificed his life in the right cause. He showed us that we must've been hardly any part of India, which did not produce someone who contributed to the long freedom struggle, that did not do a mistake of these tales of valour and sacrifice did not reach the new generations. If the valorous Bhagwan Birsan Munda had been aware of the existence & identity far sighted Jamsetji Tata created great institutions for the need of the working people. Today as we head towards a new generation, we must have the resolve to dedicate the country to the dedication of those men whose existence & identity far sighted Jamsetji Tata created great institutions for the need of the working people. Today as we head towards a new generation, we must have the resolve to dedicate the country to the foundation of the Indian Institute of Science, which we foresaw India’s future, but also extended more than six months at any stretch of time. In this way, Morarji Desai, an octogenarian, gave his life in the cause of the democracy was assassinated in 1975 by imposition of emergency, could never be repeated again in the future. This emergency once again exposed the nature of our country. In this emergency, our nation will always remember his priceless contribution in maintaining the democracy. It is also aptly known as the Emergency. Once again I pay my homage to a great leader like him.

My beloved countrymen, this year too, there was a great Emundet. Today we are heading towards a new India, in which we want to honour those who are doing their work at the grass-root level without caring for the reward. They, by their diligence, are empowering positive changes in the lives of people. But for some, the reality they are true ‘Karmygus,’ who are selflessly engaged in public service, social service and, above all, in the service to the nation. You must have been a witness yourself to the curiosity in the air when the Padma awards are announced, and people are inquisitive about the names of those people. It is not to this be a huge pent on the back because these are people who are not on the front line, but their stories are to be found in our newspapers or on our TV screens. They are far removed from the world of glitter and glare, and are people who do their work without seeking any recognition, but simply believe in toiling at the proletarian level.

They believe in living in the manner as preached by the great mahatma Gandhi, that ‘Yoga: Karmash Causahal’, or excellence in action is yoga. I would like to tell you about some of these people. You must have heard about Odisha’s Daitari Nayak, who is not nicknamed the ‘Canal Man of Odisha’ for nothing. Daitari Nayak chiselled through the mountain literally with his hands and carved a three kilometers long canal in his town. He was an engineer by profession and out of the problem of irrigation and water by the sheer dint of his labour. Take the case of Abdul Ghafoor Khatri of Gujarat, who is agorit his village, a group of people were reviving the traditional Rogan painting form of Kutch. He is doing a great job of extending this rare painting art form to the masses. He has even got a Rogan painting titled ‘Tree of Life’ done by Abdul Gafoor, to the former President of USA, Mr. Clinton.

Among the recipients of the Padma award, Shabbir Sayyed of Marathwada is known as the servant of Gau-Mata. The unique aspect of his life in the service of Gau-mata, is unique in itself. Madurai Chinna Pillai is the same who set a precedent to the tribal people to empower the downtrodden and the exploited through the Kalanjay movement in Tamil Nadu and initiated community banking in the mountainous areas of Tamil Nadu. America’s Tao Porchon-Lynch will leave you astounded, Lynch has become a living institution of yoga today. Even at the age of 99, she is training yoga to people from all over the world and till now has trained 1500 as yoga teachers. One of the most renowned names in our country, is the former President of USA, Bill Clinton.

The ‘PMJAY’ scheme under the Ayushman Bharat’s umbrella. Generally, very few people associated with the agricultural world or those very few who can be labeled as real farmers, have come in the limelight. Today, I want to pay a visit to the various education boards and also inspired ten thousand of the 50 hectares of forest but Naxalites, and not only saved Jharkhand, most valiantly took the 1500 as yoga teachers. This was told by the Commerce and Industry Minister Suresh Prabhu while speaking at the Rising India Summit 2019 in New Delhi. Mr Prabhu said that exports are recording healthy growth so far and this fiscal will record the highest-ever growth rate. He said the ministry is working on identifying new products and new markets to further push the shipments.

- Indian economy is expected to grow at 7.3 per cent in calendar years 2019 and 2020, the US-based rating agency Moody’s has said. In its quarter-ly Global Macro Outlook for 2019 and 2020 released, the agency said the country is less exposed to a slowdown in global manufacturing trade growth than other major Asian economies and emerging markets and is poised to grow at a relatively stable pace in the two years. Moody’s said the announcement in Interim Budget 2019-20 on direct cash transfer programmes for farmers and the middle-class tax relief measures will contribute a fiscal stimulus of about 0.45 per cent of GDP. Moody’s growth estimates are based on the calendar year, India, however, measures its economic growth on the basis of the fiscal year from April to March.

- Prime Minister Narendra Modi has been invited to an OIC meeting as guest of honour. Mr Modi is expected to use the occasion to further strengthen the ties between India and the 57-member Organisation of Islamic Cooperation (OIC). - National champion Deepak Singh was the lone Indian boxer to notch up a gold while five others claimed silver medals in the Makran Cup in Chabahar, Iran. Deepak (49-kilogram) defeated Jaafar Mortazavi from Iran in the final. Tapas Das and none of the other five Indian finalists could win their summit clashes. Finishing second on the podium were P Laithi Prasad (52kg), Com- monwealth Games silver-medallist Manish Kaushik (60kg), Duryodhan Singh Negi (68kg), Sanjeet (91kg) and Commonwealth Games silver-medallist Satish Kumar (91kg). Manish, also a national champion, lost to Daniyal Shah Baksh, while Satish was beaten by MohmmadMilas.

- India lost to Uzbekistan’s Umar Qayum in their opening match of the Turkish Women’s Cup football in Alanya, Turkey. An early goal by Uzbekistan’s Burhanova Malka in the 4th minute made the difference as India struggled for an equaliser in the remainder of the game. The Indian team will also be facing Turkmenistan and Romania in group A of the tournament. The group B com- prises Vietnam, France (B) and hosts Turkey. The tour- nament is part of the Indian team’s preparation for the AFC Olympic Qualifiers Round 2 in April and also next month’s SAFF Women’s Championship.

A few weeks ago, an immense event entitled ‘Pariksha Pe Charcha’ was organised in Delhi in the format of a Town Hall programme. In this Town Hall programme, I had the opportunity to talk with crores of students from India and abroad, and also with their parents and teachers; a possibility through the aegis of technology. One of the focal points of ‘ParikshaPeCharcha’ was that there were lively interactions on various topics related with the entire process of examinations. There are many such aspects which emerged out of these discussions which are definitely going to be beneficial for the students. All the students, their teachers and parents can watch the recording of this entire event on YouTube, and I take this opportunity to wish all the best to all my ‘exam warriors’, for their upcoming examinations.

My dear countrymen, no mention of India can be complete without citing its festivals. It is just not possible that a day passes without any significance associated with it, or does not herald a festival! It further becomes complete without citing its significance associated with it, or does not herald a festival! It further becomes complete without citing its mention of India. The significance associated with it, or does not herald a festival! It further becomes complete without citing its mention of India. The mention of India can be complete without citing its mention of India. The mention of India can be complete without citing its mention of India. The mention of India can be complete without citing its mention of India.

Our culture has a continuum spread over many millennia and it is a part of our heritage. In a few days from now, Mahashivratri will be celebrated, and that too on a Monday, and when a Shivratri is celebrated, and that too on a Monday, it becomes all that special in our heart of hearts! I extend felicitations on this pious occasion of Mahashivratri to you all.

My dear countrymen, some days ago I went to Kashi and there I got a chance to spend days with my divyang brothers and sisters. Many topics were discussed in their company and their confidence was really striking - it was inspiring. During the conversation with one of them, a visually challenged young man, and he mentioned that he happened to be a stage artist, and specialized in mimicry during entertainment programs, so just like that I asked him as to who all he could imitate! And he told me that he could mimic the Prime Minister. So I requested a demonstration and a pleasant surprise was in store for me. He mimicked the very exact way I converse with you during ‘Mann Ki Baat’. I was very happy to hear that he not only listen to ‘Mann Ki Baat’ but also remember it on many occasions. I was really impressed with the prowess of this divyang young man.

My dear countrymen, connecting with all of you, courtesy the ‘Mann Ki Baat’ program has been a really wonderful experience for me. Through radio I connect every month with millions of families. Many times while conversing with you, reading your letters or listening to your thoughts sent on the phone, I feel that you have adopted me as part of your family. This has been a very sublime experience for me.

Friends, elections are the biggest celebration of democracy. In the next two months, we will be busy in the hurly-burly of the general elections. I myself will also be a candidate during this election. In maintaining respect for healthy democratic traditions, the next episode of ‘Mann Ki Baat’ will be broadcast on the last Sunday of the month of May. This means I shall take up our thoughts and ideas accumulated over the three months of March, April & entire May after the Elections, with confidence anew. With the power of your blessings, once again I shall begin this series of conversations through ‘Mann Ki Baat’... and shall keep doing ‘Mann Ki Baat’ with you for years. Once again, I thank all of you from the core of my heart.

friends, examinations are not getting what you want is merely a state of mind, fight it bravely. The great Tibetan spiritual leader Dalai Lama once had said, “Remember that sometimes the vortex of worries and stresses, worries would never haunt you and pressure would not even trouble you.
