The instantaneity of the nature of social media platforms such as Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and Snapchat, among others, has created a new communication channel to connect and share information. Today we interact, comment upon and share anything, anytime. The downside of social media platforms, however, is the scope of their misuse to spread misinformation. Since any individual can today become an influencer, it is crucial to safeguard the genuine users from possible threats.

Social Media is a serious business and needs to be recognized as a profession, with the professional immunity available to other professions such as doctors, lawyers and chartered accountants etc. Besides, various academic courses in Social Media Management should be formulated and implemented globally. Why social media is important?

Social media plays a vital role in our life. We are living in the information age and we visit social media platforms like Facebook or Gmail, many times in a day for the purpose of information as well as entertainment. Social media has become a channel that also helps in our careers. In the wake of technology evolution, we have facilities that place the world at our fingertips and give us the ability to connect with anyone, anywhere, anytime. It has given us insight into the world beyond our borders and an opportunity to achieve goals that once seemed unrealistic and too far stretched.

How the social media started?

Before the ubiquitous Facebook, there were other social media platforms/networks. In 1979, Tom Truscott and Jim Ellis, two graduate students from Duke University developed Usenet, a platform that also helps in our careers. In 1988, we were introduced to Internet Relay Chat (IRC), that enabled users to link and share files. Then came Six degrees in 1997 with more advancements, but unfortunately was shut down in 2001. Other inventions such as Mignete, Blackplanet, and Asianavante followed from 1997 to 2001.

2002 was the birth of Friendster, another social media network that allowed users to discover friends and expand their network. From 2002 onwards, these platforms became more professional and in 2003, Linkedin was founded, allowing users to post and interact privately. Another network that came in the same year was H5, where a user could prefer to be seen within their network if they wanted. In 2004, Facebook kickstarted its journey at Harvard University. But before that, it was known as Facemash in 2003, created by Mark Zuckerberg and Eduardo Saverin. It was designed to help users rate fellow classmates by giving them two photos. Facebook picked up pace, becoming hugely popular by 2008 and is now omnipresent.

Internet was already there with so many offerings such as news, information, music etc. However, what it lacked was a way to share these things with people. There was no platform to connect with, where one could share information with others. This was the major reason behind creating Facebook. This is how a thought turned into something so big and Today, Facebook has grown into one of the

We human beings have dominated this world, but the world doesn’t belong to human beings alone. There are many more species which not only help in maintaining the ecological and biological balance in the nature but are also useful to mankind in many ways. For example milk which is an important food all over the world, comes from animals. For meat and poultry, which again is consumed by a large number of people, has to come from animals and birds. Medicinal items and nutritional supplements are drawn both from natural and animal resources. We also keep animals as pet. A large population of cultivation have come, bullocks living through farm animals which again is important food all over the world, earns their one way or the other. Courses like MBBS, BDS etc. are much sought after by students completing their 10+2 with science subjects including biology. Such courses come under medical careers. People with these qualifications treat humans for different ailments. Animals and birds may also need treatment and there is a specialised field for that named as veterinary science. A person qualified in veterinary science is called veterinarian or vet (in short). The job of a veterinarian, basically, is to attend to the medical and healthcare needs of animals which includes pets, livestock, zoo and laboratory animals. In cities and urban areas the most common animals to be treated by them are dogs and cats. In others they may have to attend to cows, bullocks, goats, sheep etc. Different segment of veterinarians may be involved in different requirements related to animals. Generally the job of a veterinarian consists of conducting physical examination, administering immunization, providing emergency and critical care, performing surgery and dental procedures and offering advice to people regarding care of their pets and livestock etc. Many of the animals maladies and infections may have adverse effect on people coming in the contact of such animals. So, veterinarians’ role is also crucial to keep the human society safe and healthy. By monitoring and protecting the health of animals that provide food for a large section of population, veterinarians ensure a safe food supply for them. If you are not averse to animals, are comfortable in dealing with them and have aptitude for medical

M y dear countrymen, Namaskar, Friends, in today's episode of Mann Ki Baat, I shall also talk about a great personality of the country, cherished by all Indians with respect and affection from the core of their hearts. There must be hardly an Indian citizen who does not show deep regard for her, does not revere her. She is elder to most of us and has been a witness to myriad phases, different eras the country has passed through. We address her as "Didi", elder sister. Lata Didi. She turns ninety this 28th of September. Before leaving on the foreign tour, I was blessed with an opportunity to converse with her on the phone. This chat was akin to a young brother speaking to his elder sister affectionately. I usually refrain from sharing such personal conversations; but today, I want you to listen to the tele a tele; listen to Lata Didi. Listen to it for yourself how Lata Didi is earnestly concerned and eager about everything concerning the country. Her satisfaction and reassurance too, lies in the progress being made by India; India on the path of change; the India that is gaining newer heights.

CONVERSATION WITH LATA MANGESHKAR

Modi Ji : Lata Didi, Pranaam. This is Narendra Modi speaking.
Lata Didi : Pranaam.
Modi Ji : Before telling you how you are doing and wishing you on your birthday, this time, I would be travelling on a flight.
Lata Didi : Okay.
Modi Ji : So, I thought, before leaving, I would wish you in advance… you the most heartfelt wishes on your birthday. May you stay healthy, may your blessings always be showered upon us, we pray. And I called you up before leaving to greet you.
Lata Didi : I was touched when I came to know that you would be giving me a call. When are you returning?
Modi Ji : I am returning in the intervening night of the 28th & the 29th, slightly past your birthday.
Lata Didi : Okay, Okay. What's there to celebrate on a Birthday? Just at home with near & dear ones?
Modi Ji : Didi, you see,…
Lata Didi : I seek your blessings.
Modi Ji : It is we who seek your blessings, you are much elder to us.
Lata Didi : There are many who are elder just by age, but greater are the blessings of those who do great work, and hence are greater.
Modi Ji : Didi, you are greater. You are not only, termed as "elder" but also, in terms of your illustrious work. Your attainment through your glorious achievements are the result of your perseverance, your Sadhana & Tapasya.
Lata Didi : All this is just the fruit of the blessings of my parents and also to being humble.
Modi Ji : That is your humility. For everyone from the new generation, it is a lesson. For us it is an immense blessing to have an elder to us.
Lata Didi : There are many who are elder just by age, but greater are the blessings of those who do great work, and hence are greater.
Modi Ji : Didi, you are greater, you are not only, termed as "elder" but also, in terms of your illustrious work. Your attainment through your glorious achievements are the result of your perseverance, your Sadhana & Tapasya.

My dear countrymen, with the advent of Navratri today, the air is bound to be full of new hopes, new energy, newer zest and newer resolutions, once again. After all, it's the festival season. The ensuing weeks shall be witness to the sparkle of festivals throughout the country. All are celebrating the festival of Navratri. Maharashtra, Garba, Durga Puja, Dussehre, Diwali, Bhaiya Dooj, Chhath Puja… in fact, innumerable festivals. Heartiest greetings to all of you for these festivals to come. During festivals, families come together. Homes will be filled with joy! But… you must have felt this… there are many people around us who remain deprived of these celebrations. And this is what is termed as "Chirag Tale Andhera", darkness just beneath the lamp! Perhaps this adage is not just a set of words; for us, it is an order a philosophical thought, or an inspiration. Just think about it; there are some homes, bathed in shimmering lights; on the other hand, just close by, there are some homes mired in darkness. There are homes where sweetmeats are left to rot; there are homes where children yearn for a sweet; at places almahas run out of space to store more clothes; elsewhere, people have to slug to earn a decent covering for their bodies. So, is this not the darkness, just beneath the lamp? Indeed, it is. The true joy radiating out of festivals is only when the darkness subsides and dissipates and a radiant glow emerges. Let us distribute joy, where there is a paucity of it… let it come naturally to us. On the one hand, when we experience the 'Delivery In' of sweetmeats, apparel, gifts and so on, let us think for a moment on the process of 'Delivery Out'. At least in our homes, items that are in excess and thus, not required anymore, could be allocated for 'Delivery Out'. In many cities, many NGOs run by young friends have formed Startups for this endeavor. They collect clothes, sweets, food from homes, look for the needy and hand them over discretely. Can we, this time, during the festival season, dispel some of the darkness beneath the lamp with due awareness and resolve? The smiles thus accrued on the faces of numerous underprivileged families will more than double your joy during festivals… your faces will be lit up with a glow that will brighten your Diwali immensely.

My dear brothers and sisters, Laxmi, the goddess of wealth, makes an entry into each and every household in the form of fortune and prosperity. Of course, Laxmi should be welcomed in the traditional way. Can we, this time, introduce a novelty in welcoming her? In our culture, daughters are considered Laxmi, since they are harbingers of fortune and prosperity. Can we, this time around in society, organize programmes to felicitate daughters in villages, towns and cities? It could be in the form of a public gathering where there must be numerous daughters amongst us who, through there perseverance, diligence and talent have brought glory to their families, society and the country. This Diwali, can we arrange programmes to honor the Laxmi of India? If you look around, you'll find many daughters and daughters-in-law who are performing extraordinarily. Some must be engaged in teaching underprivileged children, others could be occupied in spreading awareness in the field of sanitation and health, while many could be doing society a service by working as Doctor and Engineers. Or striving for justice to someone by working as Lawyer!

Our society must recognize such daughters, honor them and applaud them. Programmes to felicitate them should be held throughout the country. We could do something more; we could highlight the achievements of these daughters by sharing their achievements on social media, using the hashtag #BHARAT_KI_LAXMI. The way we jointly ran a mega campaign "Selfie with daughter", which spread globally. Similarly, this time, let us do a campaign BHARAT_KI_LAXMI. Encouraging the Laxmi of Bharat amounts to strengthening the paths of prosperity for the country and her citizens.

My dear countrymen, as I have mentioned earlier, a great advantage of Mann Ki Baat is that, I'm blessed with the opportunity to converse with a lot of people, known or unknown, directly or indirectly.

A few days ago, Aleena Taayang, a student from far off Arunachal has written an interesting letter to me. And the contents are… Let me read out the letter to you.

Respected Mr. Prime Minister, my name is Aleena Taayang. I hail from Rong, Arunachal-Pradesh. On my exam result this time, some people asked me if I had read the book Exam Warriors! I replied in the negative. But on returning, I purchased the book and read it more than twice. My marks improved after the purchase. My brother, I felt, had I read the book before my exams, I would have benefited a great deal. I liked quite a few aspects of this book, but I noticed that it contains many mantras for students, but for parents and teachers, this book does not have much. I wish, if you are thinking anew on a new edition, do include a few mantras for parents and teachers and of course new content.

See… even my young friends bear this trust that whatever they ask the Pradhan Sevak, the principal servant of the country to do; it will be done.

My young students friends, first of all, I thank you for writing to me. Thank you for reading Exam Warriors more than twice and buying the book without overlooking shortcomings in the book. At the same time, my little friend has entrusted me with a task, in fact there are orders for me. I shall certainly comply with your directions. As you have told me, I shall positively try to write something for parents as also teachers, as and when I get the time to pen a new edition. But I urge all of you… can you be of help to me? It is about experiences in your daily lives. I call upon all students, teachers and parents to come up with your experiences and suggestions on aspects of stress free exams. I shall duly go through them, study them. I'll give it due thought and whatever comes across as apt, I shall try and incorporate the 23 year old Daniil Medvedev touched everyone. It was a sight to behold. If you haven’t heard Medvedev’s style, then you’re missing out. The sheer humility of the victorious in the same frame with the sheer simplicity and maturity displayed by Nadal too showered glowing praise on Daniil’s game.

The wisdom of our ancestors is truly praiseworthy. Our ancient texts observe:

"when ability and humility amalgamate in a person, whose heart will he not be able to win over? As a matter of fact, this mutual assistance in success has won the hearts of people across the globe."

The display of the indomitable ardour of the defeated and the sheer humility of the victorious in the same frame was a sight to behold. My dear countrymen and especially my young friends, what I am going to tell you now is directly for your benefit. Discourses and discussions on Fit India have been going on for decades but the opposition will continue, but, if some things are checked before they proliferate, then there is a huge benefit. Things that spawn and spread are always difficult to stop at later stages. But, if we become aware at an early stage and put a stop to it, then a lot can be saved. Continuing in the same vein, I feel, today, that I should definitely have a talk with you.

We all know that addiction to tobacco is very harmful for health and it becomes very difficult to quit this addiction. People who consume tobacco are more vulnerable to high risk diseases like cancer, diabetes, blood pressure etc. Everyone knows that. Tobacco intoxication occurs due to the nicotine present in it. Brain chemistry is altered and the individual becomes more resistant to nicotine during adolescence. But, today, I want to have a discourse with you on a new topic. You must be knowing that, recently the e-cigarette got banned in India. An e-cigarette is a type of electronic device unlike a typical cigarette. In an e-cigarette, the heating of nicotine containing fluids creates a type of chemical smoke and this is the pathway through which cancerous cells undergo mutation. Remember the dangers of common cigarettes, a misconception has been generated about e-cigarettes.

Oh Yes! Do you still remember Fit India? Fit India does not mean that we go to the gym for two hours every morning and evening, it will suffice! All these additions have to be avoided to be a part of Fit India. I am sure you will not misconstrue whatever I’ve said, but rather happily accept my counsel; I will definitely let you know.

My dear brothers and sisters, it is a matter of great providence that our India has been the birthplace and work-place of extraordinary denizens, who spent all their lives, not for themselves, but for the good of the society. Our Mother India, our country is a bountiful land! Many gems of human beings took birth here. India has not only been the birthplace of such extraordinary people, but also the land of their karma. And these are the people who have spent themselves in service of others. One such illustrious Indian is being honoured in Vatican City on 13th October. It is a matter of pride for every Indian that, on this day, 13th October, the Holy Father Pope Francis will declare Sister Mariam Thresia a saint. Sister Mariam Thresia, in her short lifespan of 50 years, worked for the good of humanity becoming a noble example for the entire world. Whatever task Sister Mariam Thresia undertook and accomplished, she did so with utmost dedication and devotions. She delivered service in the fields of education and social service. She had built many schools, hostels and orphanages, and throughout her life, remained devoted to this cause.

She founded the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Family which is still continuing on the path of her life’s philosophy and mission. I once again pay heartfelt tributes to Sister Mariam Thresia and congratulate the citizens of India, and especially our Christian brothers and sisters, for this achievement.

My dear countrymen, it is a matter of pride not only for our nation but also for the entire world, that India is being celebrated ‘Gandhi 150’. Our 130 crore countrymen have pledged to rid ourselves from the menace of Single Use Plastic. In view of the kind of lead that India has taken towards environment protection, today, the countries of the entire world are looking towards India as a role model. I am confident that you will all be a part of the campaign for liberation from the menace of Single Use Plastic on 2nd October. In India, citizens are contributing their bit through the #PlasticOn2ndOctober campaign. Now few private institutes have also started courses in the subject.

Selecting an Institute for study

Veterinary education is an old discipline with a rich history of which modern veterinary colleges have an integral part. However, many students prefer to join a master's degree course, M.V.Sc., or veterinary science and animal husbandry. In many cases the degree also includes the term animal husbandry. The entry requirements are same as applicable for MBBS. The applicant should have completed H.S.C. (i.e. 10+2) with physics, chemistry and biology or biotechnology with English. Selection is usually based on performance in entrance examination conducted for the purpose.

Various states conduct this entrance test for admission to veterinary institutes in their jurisdiction. While most of the states have a separate examination entry to B.V.Sc., few have a common combined entrance examination for this and other professional courses like B.Tech., B.Pharm. etc.

Veterinary Council of India conducts a national All India Pre Veterinary entrance examination/test. 15 percent seats in recognised institutes across the country are filled on the basis of qualifying scores in this examination. There are nearly 40 such institutes where this quota of 15 per cent is applicable.

Entrance examinations are generally conducted within a duration of 2 to 3 hours in which objective questions from physics, chemistry, botany and zoology are asked.

The course duration for a degree in veterinary science is 5 and a half years of which one year is for internship. A B.V.Sc. degree opens the door to work as a vet. However many students prefer to join a master's degree course, M.V.Sc. after graduation. The course period for this postgraduate qualification is 2 years, divided into 4 semesters and eligibility criteria is B.V.Sc. pass. To be eligible for M.V.Sc., candidates have to appear in the qualifying test conducted by Indian Council for Agricultural Research in collaboration with National Testing Agency. Doctoral (Ph.D.) opportunities are also available for those interested in research. University Grants Commission norms apply here as in case of Ph.D. in other subjects.

Selecting an institute for study

Veterinary education is an old discipline of study offered at government universities and colleges since decades. Now few private institutes have also started courses in the subject.

Indian Veterinary Research Institutes (deemed to be university) at Izat Nagar, Bareilly is a premier establishment in veterinary education. However it offers course from postgraduation onwards only. Government has established a number of veterinary sciences universitites in the country as given below:

Bihar Animal Sciences University,Patna
Nanaji Deshmukh Pashu Chikitsa Vigyan Vishwavidyalaya, Jabalpur
Sri Venkateswara Veterinary University, Tirupati

Work opportunities

Supply of Veterinary professionals is limited so it may be relatively easier to find a job or settle down in career. This position shouldn't be interpreted as lack of competition in job market. So you need to be better equipped. Those interested to work in government may join government veterinary hospitals at district and taluka levels which exist parallel to government general hospitals/primary health centres. In many states District Livestock Development Officers (DLOs) are appointed who in many cases are considered to be the incharge of Veterinary hospitals.

One good opportunity for which only a graduate qualification is needed comes from public sector banks who allow candidates with B.V.Sc. to join as Agricultural Field Officer/Rural Development officer. Selection is based on written test and interview. Private banks operating in rural areas and insurance companies also retain veterinarians.

Another option is to work with drug researchers and manufacturing companies. Poultry feed and pesticide companies also appoint veterinarians. Wildlife parks, zoos, district and taluka zoological parks etc. need the services of veterinarians on a regular basis. Most of such establishments are managed by government bodies. Milk producers and cooperative organizations need veterinarians.

Defence services and police departments need services of veterinarians to look after dogs engaged for security and investigation purposes.

There is good business opportunity for Veterinary doctors to pursue private practice by establishing their own clinic. Alternatively you may join a big clinic and offer your services as a member in doctors team.

Those interested in business and marketing may take up M.B.A. in Agribusiness after completing their B.V.Sc.

Teaching opportunities can be explored at the institutes listed above and others involved in Veterinary education.

Candidates with an aptitude for research may work as a research scientist at Indian Veterinary Research Institutes. Government of India has established a number of research establishments many of which conduct research on a particular animal. These organizations, as listed below, appoint candidates with higher qualification in veterinary science:

National Research Centre on Camel, Bikaner
Sheep Research Centre, Mannavanur, Tamilnadu
Central Institute for Research on Goat, Makhmud, Uttar Pradesh
Central Sheep & Wool Research Avikanagar, Rajasthan
Buffalo Research Centre, Hisar
National Research Centre on Meat, U P Pandit Deendayal Upadhyay Animal Research Institute, Hisar
National Research Centre on Cattle, Hisar
National Research Centre on Yak, Dirang, Arunchal Pradesh
National Research Centre on Equines, Hisar
National Research Centre on Mithun, Jhampi, Nagaland

There are few other research institutes dealing with animal health issues viz.

National Institute of Veterinary Epidemiology, Bengaluru
National Institute of Animal Nutrition and Physiology, Bengaluru
CSIR-National Institute of High Security Animal Diseases, Bhapal

Scholarship based research opportunities can be explored in foreign countries.

Challenges

Animals also communicate but differently from humans. They can't explain what ails them so it requires extra efforts to understand their pains and problems and then decide on a course of action.

Skills and traits for success

Veterinarians must show compassion towards their animal patients and their owners. Willingness to learn, explore and go the extra mile keep a veterinarian in good stead.

largest internet companies in the world with more than 2 billion monthly active users.

Meanwhile, MySpace was launched in 2003, enabling users to customize their profiles, embed videos and post music, while chatting with each other. It soon became the most famous social media platform in the world. Next was YouTube, one of the first major sharing of online video hosting platforms, that allowed users to instantly upload videos and share these to the whole world. Twitter came in 2006 and, after four years, Instagram in 2010. And the list goes on.

Privacy of an individual should be respected. However, this doesn’t happen every time. Many companies take advantage of the social media platforms. They take this information as a commodity to make profits. And users on the other hand, never come to know how their information was collected and by whom and why it was shared with. Some people also use social media as a publicity-generating platform with no regards for privacy. Then there is the issue of “privacy settings”. Especially in the early 2017, and amid the country’s elections, some political parties and on different topics. In authoritarian countries, social media platforms are one of the primary means of preventing popular unrest, especially during political and security crises.

Among democracies, we find that social media platforms are actively used for computational propaganda, either through broad efforts at opinion manipulation or targeted experiments on particular segments of the public. For example, in Brazil, bots had a significant role in shaping public debate ahead of the election of former President Dilma Rousseff, during her impeachment in early 2017, and amid the country’s ongoing constitutional crisis. Over the years, this has resulted in increasing cynicism among citizens and parties across the world.

Therefore, it is important for companies to redefine the boundaries of what is private communication and what is public. Social media is a platform that is fast changing and we need to not just evolve around it but also be sensitive. While social media policy is already part of employee contractual terms in many companies, guidelines have to evolve further. This can also help put employers in a stronger position when they want to act against employees doing things they don't approve of. www.Jobriya.com

As any epidemiologist knows, the first step to control a communicable disease is to understand how it is transmitted. Once fake news is distributed through automation and the proprietary black box algorithms that determine what is and is not relevant news and information. We call this “computational propaganda,” because it comprises politically-motivated lies backed by the global reach and power of social media platforms like Facebook, Google, and Twitter.

However, Facebook to combat this issue, has started to examine how foreign governments use its platform to manipulate voters in democracies and before the French presidential election last spring, it removed some 30,000 fake accounts and so on in the British election in June and in the German election as well that took place in December 2017. But this is not enough. Firms like Facebook need to engineer a more fundamental shift from defensive and reactive platform tweaks to more proactive and imaginative ways of supporting democratic cultures.

My attention was drawn towards his work, so I talked to him on the phone and tried to understand the new experiment being attempted by him. It could be that this attempt of his may work for other people of our country. Mr. Ripudaman Belviji is making a unique effort by attempting plogging! When I first encountered the term Plogging, it was novel even to me. Perhaps this word is in usage in certain measures in foreign lands. But, in India, Ripudaman Belviji has promoted it to a great extent. Let’s talk to him.

PM’S PHONE CALL WITH RIPUDAMAN BELVIJ

Modi ji: Hello Ripudaman ji, This is Narendra Modi speaking. www.Jobriya.com

Ripudaman: Yes..yes sir. Thank you very much sir.

Modi ji: Ripudaman ji

Ripudaman: Yes sir.

Modi ji: You are working in a quite dedicated manner with regards to this work termed as ‘plogging’!

Ripudaman: Yes sir.

Modi ji: So I was a bit curious, so I thought to myself to call and ask you.

Ripudaman: Ok

Modi ji: When did I mean it? What was my inspiration to strike my mind?

Ripudaman: Yes sir.

Modi ji: When did this term… and this technique came to your mind?

Ripudaman: Sir, the youth of today wants something cool, you need something interesting to motivate them, so I got motivated. If I had to involve 130 crores of Indians in this mission then I had to devise something interesting, so I myself am a runner, so in the morning when we run at time traffic is less as well as the people. And therefore garbage and trash and plastic are most visible. Instead of cribbing and complaining I thought to do something about it! And I started with my running group at first in Delhi and then took it all over India! And got quite a lot of appreciation from everywhere...

Modi ji: What exactly did you do? Please explain a bit so that I can understand and through ‘Mann Ki Baat’ our Countrymen can also get to know.

Ripudaman: Sir, so we started ‘Run & Clean-up Movement,’ where in our running groups after their workout, during their cool down activity period we said that you start collecting trash, and start lifting your own plastic you start lifting your own. As you are running as well as you’re cleaning-up at the same time, hence lots of exercise was getting added up! So you’re not just running but are also doing squats, doing deep squats, you are doing lunges, because you’re bending for the plastic. So it became a holistic work out. And You will be happy to know that last year in all fitness magazines it has been nominated as ‘Top fitness trend of India’...This Fun (filled activity).

Modi ji: I congratulate you on this.

Ripudaman: Thank you sir.

Modi ji: So now you plan to start from Kochi on 5th September?

Ripudaman: Yes sir, the name of this mission is ‘R. Elan, Run to make India Litter Free,’ like you are going to deliver a historic verdict on 2nd October - and I am sure if we’ll be garbage free then we will also be free from plastic and that will be the first step towards being a plastic free nation. So, I am running and cleaning-up a thousand kilometres covering 50 cities. It is being said that this is probably the world’s longest clean-up drive and in addition we will have begun a very cool sir, usage of social media at #Hashtag plasticUpvaas where we are telling people that they tell us which single thing, single use anything, not just single use plastic but single use anything that you will completely rid of your life!

Modi ji: Well… what has been your experience since you’ve been out from 5th September till now?

Ripudaman: Sir, it has been a very good experience so far. From last two years, we have done around 300 plogging drives all over India. So as we started from Kochi and then the running groups joined, the local clean-ups were also added. After Kochi, Madurai, Coimbatore, Salem we have just been in Udupi Where we got a school invitee, small children, Sir, from 3rd standard to 6th standard, were to be given a workshop for half an hour for which they called me. And that half-hour workshop became a three hours Plogging Drive! Sir, because these kids are so enthusiastic that they wanted to do this and they wanted to take it back to their parents, tell their peers, their neighbors! That becomes a big motivation for us to take it to the next level!

Modi ji: Ripu ji this is not a mere toll, it is a penance. You’re performing penance really!

Ripudaman: Yes sir.

Modi ji: I congratulate you very much. But if you were to tell three things to the countrymen…

So what specific advice would they be?

Ripudaman: I would really like to give three steps. For a litter free India! Towards a Garbage Free India!

Step number one

Deposit litter in the dustbin only.

Step number two

Any garbage you see, pick it up from the ground and deposit in the dustbin.

Step number three

If you don’t see a dustbin then take the litter in your pocket or in your car and carry it home! Segregate it into Dry and Wet waste and in the morning when municipality van comes, you give it to them! If we follow these steps we will see a litter free India! We will get an India free from garbage!

Modi ji: Ripu ji in very simple words and simple language that an ordinary human being can also practice your advice, and you seem to be walking in step with Gandhiji’s dream, as well as you have adopted to tell it in simple manner similar to the way Gandhiji used to do.

Ripudaman: Thank you.

Modi ji: I am impressed with your worthy of praise. Ripudaman ji, I felt nice talking to you. You have designed this entire programme in a very innovative manner, in a way that it will be liked, especially by young people. Heartiest wishes for your future. And on the occasion of the 130th anniversary of revered Bapu, the Ministry of Sports too is organizing a ‘Fit India Plogging Run’. On the 2nd of October, plogging for two kilometers; and it will be held across 130 locations which have been heard through the voices of Ripudaman Ji, how this programme should be organised; what it should consist of. What we have to do in this campaign that commences on 2nd of October is that while we jog 2 kilometers; in addition to all kinds of plastic waste. Through endeavor, we shall not only pay better attention to our health; we shall also take a step towards ensuring protection for Mother Earth. This campaign is resulting in raising awareness levels in people; as far as sanitation and cleanliness, along with fitness levels. I do believe that a single step towards freedom from single use plastic taken by 130 crore countrymen will give India a lead by a 130 crore steps.

Ripudaman ji, once again, many thanks to you. And to your team, and your imaginative, innovative bent of mind, heartiest congratulations from my side. Thank you.

My dear countrymen, ground-work for 2nd October is going on all over the country and also the world over, but we want to transmute ‘Gandhi 150’ as a task on the path of our duty. We want to move forward devoting our lives in the interest of the nation. I would like to remind you one thing in advance! Although in the next episode of ‘Mann Ki Baat’ I shall dwell upon it in detail, still today I am telling this in advance so that you get time to prepare. You do remember that, 31st October is the birth anniversary of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel and that ‘Ek Khela Hobe’ is the chief feature. For this reason, every year on 31 October, we run for fostering union in the country as ‘Run for Unity’, all over the nation. We have to run for the unity of the country on that day in large numbers, elders, everyone, schools, colleges, all of us have to run for unity in lakhs of villages across the span of Hispan. So, better starting preparing from this instant onwards! I shall talk about it in detail later. From today, eight in the morning, everyone can begin their practice, whereas some can chalk out a plan.

My dear countrymen, you will remember, that on 15 August, we celebrated as World Tourism Day and you will be happy to know that certain reputed tourism agencies of the world which rank standards of travel & tourism, people do travel and that’s why I urge you to visit any 15 destinations in India. At least 15 places and if possible, make a program to stay over there for an overnight, two-night stay. You should observe, understand, experience India. We have so much diversity. And when holidays come in the shape of Diwali and allied festivals, people do travel and that’s why I urge you to visit any 15 such places in India.

My dear countrymen, the 27th of September, two days prior to today, was celebrated as World Tourism Day and you will be happy to know that certain reputed tourism agencies of the world which rank standards of travel & tourism, people do travel and that’s why I urge you to visit any 15 destinations in India. At least 15 places and if possible, make a program to stay over there for an overnight, two-night stay. You should observe, understand, experience India. We have so much diversity. And when holidays come in the shape of Diwali and allied festivals, people do travel and that’s why I urge you to visit any 15 such places in India.
