EMPOWERMENT OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

Dev Nandan Kumar & Prof. (Dr.) Mala Tandon

According to the United Nations, more than one billion people, or approximately 15 per cent of the world's population, live with some form of disability. 80 per cent of persons with disabilities (Divyangjan) live in developing countries.

They are an integral part of our society. But most of us are seldom aware of how many divyangjan are there in our neighborhood and whether or not they are getting equal rights like every citizen of the country. Divyangjans have equal rights to lead a normal life and enjoy all the benefits accrue to them by law. Society should have a basic understanding of their needs for special aids and our duties as responsible citizens to make our surroundings divyangjan-friendly.

International Day of Persons with Disabilities (Divyangjan)

Persons with the disabilities come under "the world's largest minority" and face a lot of obstructions in all the aspects of life because of the lack of proper resources and rights for them. 3rd of December was declared as International Day for Persons with Disabilities in the year 1992. Since then, it has been observed continuously every year. In India, on the occasion of the International Day of Persons with Disabilities, National Awards are conferred to individuals/ institutions/ States/ Districts for their outstanding achievements for the empowerment of persons with disabilities. These awards have been instituted with the objective to focus public attention on issues concerning divyangjans and to promote their mainstreaming in the society. The awards are given under the 14 broad categories.

What is Disability

The International Classification of Functioning, Disability and Health (ICF) defines disability as an umbrella term for impairments, activity limitations and participation restrictions. Disability is the interaction between individuals with a health condition (e.g. cerebral palsy, Down syndrome and depression) and personal and environmental factors e.g. negative attitudes, inaccessible transportation and public buildings, and limited social supports.

The Right to Persons with Disabilities Act 2016 defines "Person with Benchmark Disability" means a person with not less than forty per cent of a specified disability where specified disability has not been defined in measurable terms and includes a person with disability where specified disability has been defined in measurable terms, as certified by the certifying authority. (Refer RPWD Act, 2016, Chapter I, Clause 2, sub-clause (r)). The Right to Persons with Disabilities (RPD) Act, 2016 has come into force with effect from 19.04.2017; and according to new RPD Act the number of categories of disabilities has gone up from 7 to 21.

Disability Certification

The RPD Act, 2016 provides certain benefits to Persons with Disabilities who have not less than 40% of any disability, as certified by a Medical Authority. Thus, a person with a disability who wishes to avail the benefits under the Act has to obtain a disability certificate from the Medical Authority notified for the purpose. The certificates are issued based on guidelines framed by the Department of Persons with Disabilities, Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment, Govt. of India. The State Governments are responsible for issuing Disability

Population of Persons with Disabilities

The percentage of persons with disabilities in the USA is 12%, in the UK is 18%, in Germany is 9%, in Sri Lanka is 5%, in Pakistan is 9%. This variation is due to the way we estimate disability. Out of the total population of persons with disabilities, about 1.50 crore are male and 1.18 crore female. NPCIL, a premier public sector enterprise under the Department of Atomic Energy, Govt. of India having comprehensive capability in all facets of nuclear technology namely, Site Selection, Design, Construction, Commissioning, Operation, Maintenance, Renovation, Modernization & Upgradation, Plant Life extension, Waste Management and Decommissioning of Nuclear Reactors in India, under one roof, invites applications ONLINE for the following posts to share these challenging spectrum of responsibilities:-
Quantitative Aptitude: This section is aimed basically to test mathematical knowledge. Problems may relate to arithmetic, algebra or geometry etc. It is important to know the number of people/work, percentage, average, area, diameter/radius, interest calculation, profit/loss/discount, ratio/ proportion/variation, progression and series, mixtures/allegations, probability, etc. What have you known in your H.S.C. This course will come handy here.

Data Interpretation: You might have seen in newspapers tables and graphs intended to bring out certain facts related to economy, society etc. By interpreting the data, the particular array of numbers can be understood. In data interpretation questions, you'll have to apply procedures on the given data to arrive at conclusions as required in questions asked. Data can be presented in multiple formats like charts, tables, graphs, pie charts. For example in a bar graph, the height/length of the bar are proportional to the value of the data they represent. Comparison of the bars can tell you in which year the production or sales or anything related to the question stood higher or lower and to what extent.

Data Sufficiency: In important life situations, for objective decision making, some relevant facts are required to be taken into consideration. In data sufficiency questions, for imaginary situations, two or three statements will be given. The candidate has to find if the data (in any form) given in one or more statement(s) is/are sufficient to answer the question or explain the situation. Similarly based on the given statements you've to find out what follows and what not follows. These are only few examples of the questions under data sufficiency.

General Awareness: In many of the management entrance examinations, weightage given to general awareness questions is between 15 to 25 percent. Your preparation for this segment is also likely to help you to do well in discussion and interviews. Questions may relate to recent business and political events nationally and internationally, sports, economy, agriculture, global summits, Indian constitution, environment and educational issues, books, authors, company logo identification, capitals/currencies of nations, United Nations and its various agencies etc.

Step by step preparation

Those who plan to take a management entrance examination in the upcoming session 2020-21, this article could act as a guide to start their preparation. The preparation should be systematically planned and focussed. Whichever test you are going to attempt, you should have thorough understanding of its pattern. The next step would be to make a self-assessment as to where you stand to decide whether to attempt the test. There may be few areas in which you are strong and few in which you are not so strong. You need to make a schedule which gives more time for those sections where more preparation is needed. Your vocabulary may be good but your grammar may be weak. Any such situation can mar your performance and needs to be corrected.

Analytical reasoning:

Analytical reasoning: Analytical reasoning questions are like puzzles. If you understand this puzzle you may answer all the questions related to it. The challenge is to explore the answer from the jumbled information which may be given in a jumbled form. Also there may be some information which would be superfluous and you have to make sure that it doesn’t confuse you. There would be questions containing multiple scenarios which you’ll have to put together to find the answer.

Logical reasoning:

Test: Logical reasoning expects candidates to assess given information and draw conclusion based on meaning, relationship and pattern. Questions are mostly based on arrangements that will have certain conditions to be fulfilled and may relate to seating arrangements, ranks, team formation, blood relation, direction sense, clocks and calendar, syllogism, assumptions etc.

The 50th edition of the International Film Festival of India (IFFI) was held in Goa from 20-28 November 2019. The grand open ceremony hosted by Bollywood producer-director Karan Johar, aka, the king of entertainment, witnessed Union Information and Broadcasting Minister Shri Prakash Javadekar urge India’s film industry to use films to ‘further India’s soft power.’ Shri Javadekar also promised a single window clearance for those seeking film shooting permissions in the country.

The festival was officially flagged off by the great doyen of Indian Cinema Amitabh Bachchan and the Thalaiva of Indian film industry Rajinikanth, who was conferred the ‘Icon of Golden Jubilee Award.’ One of French cinema’s defining faces Isabelle Anne Madeliene Huppert was conferred with the Lifetime Achievement Award. A seven-minute film on former Chief Minister of Goa, Late Shri Manohar Parikkar was also played as a heart-felt tribute to the late leader who was instrumental in getting the IFFI in Goa in 2004. Also, it was during his tenure as Defence Minister in 2014 that Goa got the status of permanent venue for the festival.

On the first night, attendees were treated with the highly acclaimed film ‘Despite the Fog’ directed by documentarian Goran Paskaljevic. The film represented Italy; over ten thousand refugees of minors without parental care are wandering today in Europe, half of which are on Italian roads.

The festival highlighted some of the industry’s most famous filmmakers as well as burgeoning new ones. The additional presence of several fascinating documentaries on top of the fictional selection broadened the range of the festival’s 9-day-long offerings. The festival also screened movies as homage to two great French filmmakers who passed away from our midst, Bernardo Bertolucci and Agnes Varda by featuring their acclaimed works. In all, the festival witnessed over 250 movies from 76 countries. It also included 26 feature films and 15 non-feature films in the Indian Panorama section, all of which have made India proud globally.

The country in focus this year was Russia. Eight extraordinary films by Russian directors were included in the IFFI 2019 line-up. Two of the most talked-about movies from Russia were “Abigail” by 30-year old Aleksandr Boguslavsky and “Andrei Tarkovsky: A Cinema Prayer” - a masterpiece documentary by Tarkovsky himself, who died back in 1986. While “Abigail” revolves around a girl named Abigail who thinks she lost her father to an epidemic only to find out later that no epidemic actually even occurred. “Andrei Tarkovsky: A Cinema Prayer” recounts Tarkovsky’s life and work as he shares his memories, views and reflections on art, destiny of an artist and the meaning of human existence. Other Russia-originated movies included "Acid", "Beanpole", "Great Poetry", "Once in trubchevsk", "Why don’t you just die!" and "The Hero" by directors Alexander Gorchilin, Kantemir Balagov, Aleksandr Lugin, Larissa Sadilova, Kirill Sokolov, and Karen Oganesyan respectively. The people to people connect between India and Russia is very strong as evident in the flourishing cultural exchange. Indian films, for that matter, have a strong base in Russia with televisions channels dedicated to Indian cinema. The Russian delegation to the event was led by Maria Lemesheva, TV presenter, reporter, and editor in chief of The Hollywood Reporter.

The international competition section featured 15 exquisite movies from various countries, with different languages and genres competing for the coveted ‘Golden Peacock’ prize. The Indian Panorama had films in different languages like Badhai Ho, Bhonga, Bahattar Hoorain, Bohoubritta, Ek Je Chillo Raja, Gully Boy and Jallikattu.

The non-competition sections like the World Panorama, Master Frames, had equally tasteful variety including you will die at 20, X-the Exploited, While At War, A White White Day, Watch List, Wasp Network, etc. The Oscar Retrospective section had classics like The Best Years of Our Lives.

The International Film Festival of India (IFFI) aims at providing a common platform to the cinemas across the world to project the excellence of the art of filmmaking.

The Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs, CCEA, gave its nod to strategic disinvestment in Bharat Petroleum Corporation Limited (BPCL), Shipping Corporation of India (SCI), Container Corporation of India (CONCOR), North Eastern Electric Power Corporation Limited (NEEPCO) and Tehri Hydro Development Corporation India Limited (THDC).
