INDIA’S SIGNIFICANT STRIDES IN SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY IN 2019

In the year 2019, India made some significant leaps in the field of science and technology. India launched “Green Crackers” in its bid to curb air pollution. The First Indigenous Fuel Cell System launched DNA Technology (Use and Application) Regulation Bill - 2019 was passed by the Lok Sabha. Also, India adopted the redefined global units of measurement of kilogram, kelvin, mole, and ampere from 20th May 2019 i.e. the World Metrology Day.

The Ministry of Science & Technology announced key missions including AatmaNirbhar Bharat: Mission on Microbial Resistance for affordable diagnostics and therapeutics and Clean Energy Mission - innovative technology interventions for Swachh Bharat. The missions were announced on the occasion of the 33rd foundation day of the Department of Biotechnology in the Ministry of Science and Technology, Government of India, in New Delhi on 26th February with the theme as “Celebrating Biotechnology: Building India as an Innovation Nation”. On the occasion, Minister Dr. Harsh Vardhan gave away the Biotechnology Research Innovation and Technology Excellence (BRITE) awards.

The DNA Technology (Use and Application) Regulation Bill - 2019: The bill was passed on 8th January by the lower house of Parliament in a landmark decision. The Bill has been formulated recognizing the need for regulation of the use and application of Deoxyribonucleic Acid (DNA) technology, for establishing identity of missing persons, victims, offenders, under trials and unknown deceased persons.

Redefined units of measurement of Kilogram, Kelvin, Mole and Ampere implemented in India by CSIR-NPL:

After decades of ground-breaking laboratory works, the world’s scientific and technical community, in a landmark and historic decision taken in the recent open session of the General Conference on Weights and Measures (CGPM) at BIPM on 16th November 2018, unanimously adopted the resolution to redefine four of the seven base units, the kilogram (SI unit of weight), Kelvin (SI unit of temperature), mole (SI unit of amount of substance), and ampere (SI unit of current). The new SI was implemented from 20th May 2019 i.e.

INDIAN ARMY: THE ULTIMATE DESTINATION TO FULFILL YOUR DREAMS

Many career options are available to them, but what is best for them, is the question that every parent or every student is troubled with. It’s a dream of every patriotic person what is best for them, is the question that every parent or every student is troubled with. The ethos of the Indian Army. The Army trains its soldiers in a manner that they are infused by a set of values that make them willingly face and conquer a vast array of challenges and difficulties, and when the call may come, to give the ultimate sacrifice in the service of the Nation.

- The values which are ingrained in all soldiers include an unwavering will to succeed, accepting their responsibility against all odds and an unbridled ability to give their lives for others. Highlights of PM Shri Narendra Modi’s Mann ki Baat

In the 60th edition of his monthly radio programme Mann Ki Baat on 29 December 2019, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi extolled the country's youth by praising their courage for detesting anarchy while following the system. The Prime Minister also reiterated his appeal to the countrymen to buy ‘swadeshi’ and encourage the zeal of small local entrepreneurs. Highlighting India's pioneering works in the discipline of astronomy, Shri Modi encouraged entrepreneurs. India is quite advanced in the field of astronomy, with magnificent observatories (Jantar Mantars) - which are worth seeing. And these observatories have a deep bond with astronomy. India has an ancient and glorious history of astronomy. Our connection with the twinkling stars in the sky is as old as our civilisation. Many of you might be aware that at various places in India, there are magnificent observatories (Jantar Mantars) - which are worth seeing. And these observatories have a deep bond with astronomy. India has an ancient and glorious history of astronomy. Our connection with the twinkling stars in the sky is as old as our civilisation.

I extend my heartiest greetings to all countrymen on the 26th of this month, we had urged from the ramparts of Red Fort on the occasion of Independence Day and there was an interesting comment on the MyGov portal. Possibly, this solar eclipse prompted Ripun to write a message to the villagers. My dear countrymen, the movement of the sun, moon and earth doesn’t just determine eclipses, it is a symbol of the cycle of change.

I had urged from the ramparts of Red Fort on the 15th of August, requesting the countrymen to buy local produce preferentially. Today once again I suggest, can we promote locally made products? Can we prioritize them in our shopping? Can we link local products with pride and pride? Can we become a medium to bring prosperity to our fellow countrymen with this spirit? My dear countrymen, can we pledge, that by 2022, when we achieve 75 years of independence we insist and remain steadfast at least, for about two-three years on buying local products? I do not advocate this for a long time, just till 2022, till the completion of 75 years of independence. And this work should not be carried out by government, instead of this young people should step forward at various places, form small organizations, motivate people, explain and decide -“Come, we will buy only local, products, emphasize on local products, carrying the fragrance of the sweat of our countrymen - That will be the exultant moment of my free India; let these be the dreams with which we proceed!

In the last 6 months, both the sessions of the 17th Lok Sabha have been very productive. Lok Sabha’s productivity stands at 114%, while that of Rajya Sabha is 94%. And prior to that in the budget session, it had a productivity of 135%. Often, Parliament functioned till late at night. I am mentioning this because all Parliamentarians deserve to be congratulated and complimented for this.

My dear countrymen, the movement of the sun, moon and earth doesn't just determine eclipses, rather many other things are also associated with them. We all know, that based on the sun's motion, various festivals will be celebrated throughout India in the middle of January. During this time, we will see the celebration of Lohri in Punjab, Pongal in Tamil Nadu and Magh Bihu in Assam. These festivals have a close link with the prosperity of farmers and their crops. These festivals remind us of India's unity as well as its diversity.

My dear countrymen, this is the final episode of 'Mann ki Baat' in 2019. We will meet again in 2020. New year, new aspirations, new energy, new enthusiasm, new zeal - come let's move forth. Let's enable ourselves to fulfill our resolutions. We have to walk far, we have to achieve a lot, we have to take our country to new heights. Let's show immense faith in the pursuits (actions), the abilities and the resolve of 130 crore countrymen, and come - let's move forth.

3rd- Senior Manager, Mail Motor Service, Mumbai - 400016
RHUL SHARAN

The journey from being a student to a professional is a difficult one. It is not easy to get a job in India especially when there are so many educated, skilled and talented young people. Getting a government job is much more difficult since it usually involves a rigorous selection process consisting of a written test, group discussion and a personal interview.

Landing a job definitely provides a sense of security, financial security, social recognition and increase in self-esteem. It is quite normal to assume that the challenges would be reduced substantially once we get a job. However, a new set of challenges come to the fore, when we start working. A working life is different from a college life or other forms of social interaction. In our student life, we can choose our friends but in a job set up, we can't choose our Manager, colleagues or even our subordinates - we have to work with people and the conditions which the work environment provides.

A sense of power is associated with a job and it has been rightly said that with power comes responsibility - greater the power, greater is the responsibility. Young professionals need to understand the implications of their work and the related ramifications of the decisions that they take.

One of the challenges that we need to take care of in a job is a professional are the ones related to ethics. Ethics can be broadly defined as a system of morals or rules of behavior which defines what is good for the individuals and the society. It is derived from the Greek word ethos which can mean custom, habit or character. It is important to mention that in a few cases being unethical may be different from being on the right side of law. Ethics is not enforceable by law.

Government officials are expected to abide by a code of ethics and values. For example, below are a few important points related to expected standards of the civil services to provide for accountability of civil servants to ensure good governance and better delivery of services to citizens:

- promote the principles of merit, fairness and impartiality in the discharge of duties;
- maintain accountability and transparency;
- maintain political neutrality;
- maintain courtesy and good behaviour with the public;
- declare any private interests relating to his public duties and take steps to resolve any conflicts in a way that protects the public interest;
- act with fairness and impartiality and not discriminate against anyone particularly the poor and the under-privileged sections of society;

As a professional, we should strive to be a polite, courteous and a good colleague, boss & subordinate and maintain a strong personal ethics.

Young professionals may face ethical dilemmas in their day to day working e.g. what to do if the Boss or the culture of the department creates a situation where whatever we do, we take an unethical course of action? In such situations, it may be convenient to consider it as a professional hazard/ sell out to further one's career but that is clearly not the right approach. In such a case, it is best to present your boss an alternative and ethical solution. If you can't come up with a good solution, seek a mentor you trust, confide in and discuss the situation and provide your thoughts on possible solution.

Young professionals should reflect on the decisions that they make and approaches they take by asking questions such as whether they are proud of the kind of worker they are, and would they want to live in a society in which every member of the profession carried out work in the ways it is currently executed. Responding to these questions regularly can keep professionals honest and may offer opportunities to correct a misguided decision or action.

When we face moral dilemmas, most of us justify our action by assuming that we didn't have a choice. Let's get this straight, we should not fool ourselves by saying that we didn't have a choice - we always have an option and it is up to us to exercise that option.

Also, in a lot of unethical dealings, someone would say 'let's be practical'. Let's get over this phenomenon at the earliest. Most being practical may mean taking the convenient/ profitable route ignoring ethics.

Every code of ethics is largely based on the trinity of Selflessness, Justice and Empathy.

Justice demands that any decision should be fair to all the parties concerned/ stakeholders. There shouldn't be any discrimination - on the basis of religion, caste, gender, race, region, language, background or any such thing. Discrimination of any kind is wrong, and Justice should not be compromised under any circumstances.

Empathy demands that we do unto others as we would expect they do unto us. We should put ourselves in other person's shoes and then we would understand the other person's point of view.

Selflessness is not ambiguous but perhaps the most difficult to follow. We can take an objective decision if we remove self-interest out of the equation. It is important to note that in any decision we take, our self-interest is not involved/ there is no conflict of interest. The motto of ethics, according to Swami Vivekananda, is 'Not Self; but Non-self'.

Selflessness is easy to decide but how do we sort out cases where there is a conflict between the need for justice and empathy e.g. consider a situation where if we decide based on justice, we take a particular decision whereas if we consider empathy, we would take exactly opposite decision. Consider a situation where you have to decide annual increments and Sita has performed better than Ramesh, BUT Ramesh needs money more so that he can take care of his family and ailing parents while Sita is single and wealthy. In such a situation, however much we feel empathy towards Ramesh, higher increment should be given to Sita since one has to be just as a Manager.

In terms of work ethics, it helps to consider work as worship. Also, let's remember that if a work is worth doing it's worth doing well (otherwise don't do it). Good work ethics means that the stamp of quality should be evident on any work we do. It's output we produce.

As a young professional, it is important to be aware about the purpose of work (e.g. to ensure good law and order for police) and be proactive about the approach to take to perform the work. It may be helpful to identify the role models/ admirable workers in the field that you are working e.g. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam (for scientists), Kiran Bedi (for police) and Raghuram Rajan (finance/ banking) and emulate them.

As a government servant, we may have to take decisions which have far reaching consequences, it would be good to remember the Tulsian given by Gandhiji. He said 'I will give you a talisman. Whenever you are in doubt, or when the self becomes too much with you, apply the following test. Recall the face of the poorest and the weakest man [woman] whom you may have seen, and ask yourself, if the step you contemplate is going to be of any use to him [her]. Will he [she] gain anything by it? Will it restore him [her] to a control over his [her] own life and destiny? In other words, will it lead to swaraj (freedom) for the hungry and spiritually starving millions? Then you will find your doubts and your self melt away.

A traditional but very simple lesson of ethics is:

"For the good of a village, a man ought to give up his family; For the good of a country, he ought to give up his village; For the good of humanity, he may give up his country; For the good of the world, everything."

As a professional, we should be ready to sacrifice ourself for the good of the department, sacrifice the department for the good of the organization and sacrifice the organization for the good of the country.

It is very important to take care of the customer (since they are the reason for our existence) and listen to our boss. However, this doesn't mean that 'The Customer is always Right' or 'The Boss is always Right' - the only truth is that 'Ethical Actions are always Right'. If your professional commitment clashes with ethical values, just stick to ethical action/ behavior. Validate your thinking first and don't let the seniors influence/ intimidate you.

Let me conclude by saying that when we come to a crossroad in life, we need to take the right path, which may be difficult to tread but the one which is made of principle - which leads to character. If one is upright, one would always do what is right - whether he/ she is acting as an individual, as a professional, part of a society, business or even the government.
